RULES TO PUT NELSON MAYOR B.C. NOTARIES IS LIBERAL ON NEW PLANE CAN DATE

Practitioners Must Pass Legal Examinations Under New Code
Regulations End Long Struggle Between Lawyers
and Notaries

From now on British Columbia notaries public will have to possess a substantial knowledge of law, under strict new regulations issued to-day.

The rules will put the notarial practice in this Province on an entirely new plane for the protection of the public by requiring applicants for notary public seals to pass strict examinations. All notaries on the roll at the beginning of this year will retain their privileges without examination, provided they have applied for reinstatement before September 7. Those who failed to apply by that date must pass the next tests.

ARRANGEMENTS announced at the Parliament Buildings in the way of a compromise between the rival claims of notaries and lawyers, which involved the Legislature in a series of vigorous debates during the last few years. The House this year asked Chief Justice Hunter to make new rules governing notaries, and these regulations were issued by him to-day.

The chief regulation in the new code provides for examinations for notarial privileges to be written by all applicants. The examinations will be written on the following subjects: Real property, personal property, mercantile law, wills and trusts, contracts, Dominion and Provincial statutes relating to the foregoing.

MUST HAVE HIGH MARKS
Successful candidates must secure total marks of sixty per cent, and not less than fifty per cent in any subject. Supplementary examination will be allowed in the subjects.

Provision is made for persons to appear to oppose notarial applications, and also for court hearings of complaints against notaries.

Applications for notarial privileges will be made by district court registers, under whom examination will be held.

AUSTRALIA TO OPEN
GATES TO SETTLERS

Labor Demands to Restrict Migration Draw Sharp Rebuff From Premier

Sydney, Aug. 30.—(Vancouver Province Cable).—The Prime Minister of Australia, Right Hon. Stanley Bruce, replying to Labor demands that immigration from Southern Europe be restricted, contended that Australia already had sufficient restrictions on immigration.

The Government would not introduce a quota system, Mr. Bruce declared. The rate of foreign migration was not affecting racial purity. The British proportion of the population was 98.5 per cent.

"We can not accept the principle," said the Prime Minister, "that no more immigrants should be landed in Australia until employment was found for all the people here already. The only satisfactory means of settling the country is by organizing the work of development of our resources."

"Australians seem to have arrogated to themselves the view that they are white people, and that Italians and Greeks are not," continued Mr. Bruce. "Australians should regard Europeans as being as white as themselves. It will only end in disaster if Australians take up the attitude that they are better than other nations."

STORY OF BRANTFORD
FATALITY DOUBTED

Ex-Policeman Held as Witness Regarding Automobile Tragedy

Brantford, Ont., Sept. 30.—When an inquest was opened yesterday by Coroner C. C. Fisher into the death of the woman brought into the city Wednesday night by George Duncan, former Brantford policeman, John Brass, of Plattville, Ont., identified the body as that of his sister, Margaret Brass, who he thought was married to Duncan, although he could not state when the marriage took place.

James A. McDonald Given Ovation as Unanimous Choice at Meeting

Conservatives as Well as Liberals Have Urged Him to Run For Legislature

Nelson, Sept. 30.—Mayor James A. McDonald was named Government candidate for the coming Nelson by-election by the Liberal nominating convention last night. His name was the only one presented. His choice completed the line-up of candidates. The Conservatives having placed Dr. Lorrie E. Borden in the field two weeks ago. The Liberal candidate, who was born in New Brunswick, came to this Province thirty-seven years ago and has lived the last thirty-three years in Nelson. He prospered in the Slocan in the early days and spent eighteen months in the Yukon. In Nelson he was a candy manufacturer and then a wholesale fruit merchant, but found a jam factory in 1916. He has served seven years on the city council, four as mayor.

FOUNDED INDUSTRY
Mayor McDonald was placed in nomination by E. P. Dawson, local barrister, who declared him the man in Nelson most fitted than any other to represent the riding with ability and distinction, a man in whom the citizens had repeatedly expressed confidence, who had founded an industry and given the city a payroll and who was a sure winner.

The proposer declared that Nelson was on the eve of a great development and that a sympathetic co-operation from the Legislature would do more to bring about that development than any other single factor.

R. W. Hunter, locomotive engineer, was the seconder, dwelling on the fact that in which the community held Mayor McDonald and on the certainty that with him as representative the Government's record for good legislation would be maintained. Mr. Hunter was one of the possible candidates discussed in the past few weeks.

Another possible candidate, Archie Donaghy, barrister, was also a warm supporter. "All I can say is, I am for 'long Jim all the way long as he is,'" remarked Donaghy amid laughter.

RECEIVED OVATION
The candidate received an ovation when his name was put in nomination by Chairman L. H. Chouquette, former mayor.

He declared he accepted because many Conservatives as well as Liberals had urged him to.

Reviewing his lengthy career in Nelson he mentioned that he still had his jam factory, though there were only twenty-seven concerns in this highly competitive business in Canada compared with 125 when he started.

Referring to Hon. W. H. Sutherland's recent announcements in Nelson, he said: "A number of promises have been made lately regarding public works. One of these is regarding the Kuskanoek Road. I pledge that if I am elected that work will start within a month, and I know what I am talking about."

"Then, there is the matter of bridge here. That also will be built if I am elected. It is said that soundings are taken in 1924 and are in the court-house in Nelson now."

FOR LONG JIM
Major S. P. M. Moodie of Vancouver, Liberal organizer, who was on the platform, congratulated the candidate on his unanimous nomination, and on succeeding Premier Oliver Nelson Liberal representative. He paid a tribute to Premier MacLean and placed himself at the disposal of the man called "Long Jim" for the period of the campaign.

McNIVEN TO AID
SETTLEMENT IN
MINERS' WAGES

J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, left here to-day for Nanaimo to facilitate wage negotiations between the Western Fuel Corporation of Canada Limited and miners in the Nanaimo coal field. The present wage agreement expires to-day and miners will hold a mass meeting to-morrow afternoon to consider their attitude on a new agreement. Mr. McNiven will endeavor to assist in arranging a settlement on the question.

ANOTHER ROUND-THE-WORLD FLIGHT IS CONTEMPLATED BY BROCK AND SCHLEE

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Taking the air again after twelve days on the liner Korea Maru, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee will leave Crissy Field early to-morrow on their way back to their home city, Detroit.

Their would-be round-the-world plane "Pride of Detroit" was tuned up at Crissy Field to-day and after a test spin pronounced in perfect trim by the fliers, who had abandoned their attempt to girdle the globe in record time at Tokyo.

Schlee said late to-day that he and Brock intended to hop from the army field at 8 a.m. They will fly across the city to Mills Field, the new municipal airport, and inspect the equipment. After a few minutes at Mills Field they intend to hop off for Los Angeles, Schlee said.

After Los Angeles no plans have been prepared. The fliers intend to be in Detroit at 3 p.m. next Tuesday for a reception.

OUT FOR RECORD
Arriving in Detroit, Brock and Schlee intend to start preparations for an attempt to break the continuous flight record of fifty-two hours, twenty-two minutes, held by German aviators. They also intend to attempt another round-the-world flight some time in the future, but announced they had made no plans. They said they were satisfied they had made the transpacific flight successfully with the "Pride of Detroit."

The abandonment of the flight was caused by public opinion, the fliers asserted. Brock continued:

"We received more than 600 cablegrams in Tokyo urging us to abandon the flight," Brock asserted. "The world seemed to regard the Pacific flight as suicide. We did not see it that way."

GULF ISLAND MAN DIES FROM GUNSHOT WOUND

L. R. Turner of Hill Island
Succumbs to Injuries Received Last Night

Wife Makes Heroic Effort to Row Husband to Hospital
Following Accident

(Special to The Times)
Sidney, Sept. 30.—Despite the heroic attempt of his wife to row him in a small rowboat to medical aid following an accidental wounding by his own gun, L. R. Turner of Hill Island died last night following a journey by water from Hill Island to Sidney, a trip which ended disastrously for both wife and husband.

The rowboat in which Mrs. Turner was making an effort to take the injured man to medical aid caught in the current of Sidney Channel, and despite all attempts, she was unable to make headway.

Over an hour elapsed before her screams attracted two fishermen who had a gasboat in the vicinity. Mr. Turner was taken in the vessel to the Resthaven Sanatorium.

He was taken there last night following a journey by water from Hill Island to Sidney, a trip which ended disastrously for both wife and husband.

An attempt by Dr. R. F. W. Manning of Sidney to save the life of the injured man failed after his arm had been amputated.

ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE
Mr. Turner was taking his gun from a boat following a hunting expedition last evening when it accidentally discharged and tore the flesh from the elbow to the shoulder on his left arm. He was assisted into a rowboat by Mrs. Turner, who headed for Sidney, about four miles away. After getting into the channel Mrs. Turner discovered she was unequal to the task and immediately screamed for help. S. Wallace and W. Ferrier came within reach of her cries after what seemed an interminable wait of waiting for those in the small boat.

Upon reaching the rowboat, the two fishermen found Mrs. Turner on the verge of exhaustion and her husband suffering greatly from pain and loss of blood. On arrival at Sidney the wounded man was taken to the hospital, where examination was made by Dr. Manning, following which he was transferred to Resthaven Sanatorium, where the injured arm was amputated.

DIED FROM EXPOSURE
According to Dr. Manning, Mr. Turner died from severe shock, loss of blood and exposure. His wife made a valiant effort to stop the flow of blood, and bound up the extensive wound as well as possible.

Mr. Turner has a creditable war record, having gone overseas with the 7th Battalion. He suffered a gunshot wound which partially paralyzed his right arm during the war, and has been under arm disability since. He leaves his widow and young child.

The remains were shipped to the Sands Funeral Parlors in Victoria, pending arrangements for the funeral.

BRIDGEPORT STABBER

Phantom Slayer Escapes
After Slaying Twenty-fourth Victim

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 30.—Ruth St. Louis, pretty high school senior, was stabbed in the right breast last night while on her way home, the girl being the twenty-fourth victim of Bridgeport's phantom stabber, who was slain last night.

PENSIONS WILL BE PAID FOR SEPTEMBER

Operation of old-age pensions in British Columbia will date from September 1 last, officials indicated to-day, following dispatches from Ottawa stating that the new pension agreement between the Dominion and the Province had been made operative for last month.

If September 1 has been specifically fixed in the agreement, pensions will be paid retroactively to that date. Copies of the agreement have not reached here yet.

STEADY PROGRESS
ON INTER-EMPIRE
AIRSHIP SERVICE

Two Giant 100-Passenger Airships England-Australia
in Nine Days

London, Sept. 30.—Steady progress is being made in the plans for an inter-empire airship service which were initiated some months ago. Announcement that the South African Government has concluded an agreement with the Imperial Airways, Inc., for the erection of a mooring mast at Tongaat is an outcome of the Imperial Airship Mission's visit there.

The members of the mission, who are touring the Dominion in connection with provisions for the establishment of the needed mooring masts, now are in Australia for a similar purpose.

The airship plans call for the construction of two giant air liners to carry 100 passengers each. The first route will be from England to Australia, stopping in Egypt, India and Ceylon, for refueling. Nine days will be the schedule duration of the trip.

The two airships are now being built at Howden, Yorkshire. They are expected to be ready for their trial tests early next year, but will be required to undergo so many tests that the first trip to England from Australia is not contemplated before 1930 and regular service not before 1934.

IDAHO REALTOR SHOT

GERMAN DISTANCE
AEROPLANE CRASHES

Otto Koennecke's biplane Germanis, in which he was attempting a flight from Cologne to America by the eastern route, crashed here to-day as he was taking off in continuance of his journey. The plane was damaged but Lieut. Koennecke and his companions were not injured.

HEROIC GIRL
The elder girl endeavored to get help from neighbors by calling on the rural telephone and succeeded in doing so, but was badly burned about the face and arms before she left the telephone and jumped through a window, to safety.

At the time of the explosion none of the occupants of the house were in the kitchen. A coal fire had been started in the stove shortly before.

NEW BOARD TO EXTEND WAGE LAW

Minimum Pay Statute to be Applied to Hotels and Restaurants Field

Preparatory to the extension of the Minimum Wage Act into the operations of B.C. hotels, rooming houses and restaurants and similar establishments, the board administering the law will be reorganized with the appointment of two members closely in touch with the business thus affected.

Appointment of the two new members, who with Mr. McNiven as chairman will form the board, will be made shortly, following the retirement of T. F. Paterson and F. V. Foster, who are resigning after completing the task of applying the wage law to all branches of the lumber industry.

Before making the new appointments Mr. McNiven will consult with organizations and associations interested in the business of hotels, rooming houses and restaurants. It is planned to appoint one member who is in close touch with employers in this class of business and another who understands the viewpoint of employees.

The new board will thus be thoroughly familiar with the problem to be tackled in extending the law to these operations. It will start an immediate and intensive investigation before deciding what minimum wage should be set for the employees involved. After acquainting itself with wage and working conditions, it will establish a minimum scale, as was done in the case of the lumber industry.

Mr. McNiven's announcement to-day is in line with the board's policy of extending the law gradually through British Columbia industry, so that each great class of business may be investigated individually before being brought under the statute.

RUTH CLOUTS HIS

BREAKING RECORD

New York, Sept. 30.—Babe Ruth cracked his own season record for home runs to-day when he belted his sixtieth high up into the right-field bleachers in the eighth inning of the game with Washington.

AID RUSHED TO TORNADO SWEEP MISSOURI CITY

Hundreds Homeless and Destitute After Disaster Find Sanctuary in Barracks and Are Fed From Field Kitchens; Gangs Work Frantically All the Night in Darkness Among Crumpled Houses, Fallen Trees, Wrecked Factories and Business Buildings in Wake of Two Twisters, Searching for Further Victims

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—St. Louis awoke early to-day to a full realization of the appalling toll of the four-minute passage of yesterday's tornado—seventy-four known dead, 871 treated for injuries, 3,000 houses and business structures destroyed or damaged, over a devastated area of six square miles and official estimates of the damage, running from $10,000,000 to $100,000,000.

With eighteen persons reported missing, many injured in a critical condition, and portions of the devastated area unsearched for bodies, the Post-Dispatch estimated the total number of dead might reach 140, the number killed in the city's historic tornado of 1893.

Estimates of property damage remained between $10,000,000 and $100,000,000, the range mentioned by E. E. Christopher, building commissioner. Hundreds of families left with sides of their homes laid open by the storm, slept last night in the national guard armory, and other improvised quarters, and were fed to-day from field kitchens placed in service by Red Cross disaster relief forces.

Militiamen of the 138th Infantry, St. Louis National Guard Regiment, to-day patrolled the streets west of the Boulevard, where the motorcade through a mass of fallen trees, shattered roofing and broken glass.

ALL FOREMEN ON DUTY
All of the city's 1,500 firemen called in yesterday, remained on duty to-day regardless of the irregular hours. The tabulation of deaths, injuries and damage mounted steadily through the night and it was feared that further exploration to-day might increase the first two figures.

Downtown St. Louis escaped virtually undamaged, but some of the city's finest homes along Lindell Boulevard from Newstead Avenue to Grand Boulevard were laid waste. The area of greatest destruction lay roughly southwest to northeast, bounded by Forest Park Boulevard, Sarah Street, Pendleton Avenue and Hebert Street.

The black swirling funnels seemed to have appeared without warning in the vicinity of Forest Park, to have pursued a zigzag course for six miles to leap the Mississippi and dissipate its fury with a last twist at the Illinois tri-city—Venice, Granite City and Madison, in which six persons were killed and twenty injured.

TAX SALE OPENS ON CITY PROPERTY

Owners in Default Have One Year Within Which to Redeem Land

Eight properties for an upset price total of approximately $1,100 were sold by the city at the opening of the annual tax-sale at 10 o'clock to-day in the Council Chamber.

In many cases the land was re-deemed at the last moment, before it was entered on the lists. At the upset prices the eight parcels brought sums ranging from $371 to $30.

The sale was adjourned until 10 a.m. Saturday at the same place, by Edwin C. Smith, city treasurer, who is in charge of the auction held under statutory provisions. Fewer property appear in the tax sale list this year than has been the case for many years past.

Former owners whose land was sold to-day have a year within which to come forward and redeem the property by the payment of the charges outstanding.

SOUL IMMORTALITY BACKS SPIRITUALISM

Argument Advanced by Delegation at International Psychological Research Congress

Paris, Sept. 30.—The International Congress for Psychological Research yesterday took courage from a rectification made in the paper by Sir Oliver Lodge, the noted British scientist, which had been read before the congress and was interpreted as an indictment of mediums. Sir Oliver sent word that he never had uttered the statements attributed to him. He explained that what he did say was that, while mediums were useful, scientists ought to conduct researches apart from the manifestations obtained through mediums.

A paper by Dr. Hans Driesch of Leipzig on biology and metaphysics started the argument between the materialists and spiritualists. He concluded that the soul and body were separate, and that the immortality of the soul was the best proof in favor of spiritualism.

Dr. Maxwell of Bordeaux agreed with him, holding that the latest discoveries entirely upset the theory of materialism.

The problems of life, said Dr. Maxwell, "can not be solved on the theory of materialism. The theory of endless spiritual life alone accounts for some of the phenomena of existence."

Charles Riches, president of the congress, declared that he was not ready to adhere categorically to the doctrine of spiritualism, but thought it very daring to reject the idea, because manifestations which are called spiritualism made possible considerable progress in psychic research.

SCHOOL LEADER IN CHICAGO ON TRIAL

Lack of Patriotism and Insurrection Among Sixteen Charges

Chicago, Sept. 30.—William McAndrew, suspended superintendent of Chicago schools, went on trial yesterday before the School Board on sixteen specific charges of insubordination and lack of patriotism.

In campaign speeches Mayor William Hale Thompson referred to McAndrew as a "cool pigeon" of King George of Great Britain and pledged that if his candidacy were successful he would oust McAndrew.

McAndrew, cheerful and expressing confidence of vindication, went to the board room with two attorneys.

The allegations include: "He recommended to the board on May 27 the use of the public school of the pro-British textbooks which he placed on the board room with two attorneys."

"He refused to recommend to the School Board that the school children be allowed to contribute to the fund for 'Old Ironsides.'"

All previous performances of the R.M.S. Moana were beaten this morning by that ship when she arrived from Australia via Suva and Honolulu, a full day ahead of time.

The steamer Otter returned to port to-day after an absence of three weeks. She had been sent north to Skagway with three or four hundred tons of Yukon freight, and on her return she loaded several tons of canned salmon from the northern canneries.

SALADA TEA COMPANY OPENS NEW BUILDING IN BOSTON

Governor Fuller, Mayor Nichols and Leading Citizens
Laud Canadian Enterprise in Expanding Business in United States

One hears a great deal about the expansion of United States industry in Canada; therefore, it is interesting to note that Canadians can, and do, expand their business on the other side of the border. This was emphasized at the recent opening in Boston, Mass., of the magnificent new building of the Salada Tea Company—a Canadian enterprise with world-wide ramifications. The building was opened by the Honorable P. C. Larkin, in the presence of Governor Fuller of Massachusetts, Mayor Nichols of Boston and leading state and city officials. Referring to the imposing nature of the building, and the fact that it was the largest in the world devoted to the packing of tea, each speaker commented upon the success which had attended this great Canadian enterprise in the United States field.

Architecturally the building is a handsome ten-story structure, and enjoys the distinction of possessing a pair of the finest bronze doors in the world. These doors, which are the work of Henry Wilson, an English sculptor, were awarded a medal by the French Salon, where models were on exhibition this Spring. They are said to rank in beauty with the doors of the cathedrals in Milan and Mayence.

The interior of the building is notable for the remarkable collection of tapestry, carvings, cloisonne ware, metal work and ceramics. Great Buddha, which have been centuries past, gaze patiently with folded arms upon a modern business. Richly colored Oriental rugs transform the floor into gay garden patches with aisles of marble. In the great windows some of the smallest and rarest pieces of art are on display. The building is a masterpiece of the pasting public. Throughout the building officials and employees will have light, airy and most pleasant surroundings in which to work, with a luxurious clubroom on the top floor for rest and relaxation. The clubroom is furnished with handsome lounges, and large, comfortable chairs upholstered in English red moorocro, tables in color to match, Oriental rugs on the floor, and rare Chinese tapestries on the walls, with antique pieces distributed around the room, and on the inner wall a huge inviting open fireplace. Just below the clubroom is the cafeteria, to be maintained for the use of the employees.

Mr. Larkin was asked about the report that the Salada Company paid marriage bonuses. "Oh, certainly, we've done that for years. It isn't much. When an employee is married the company presents a cheque for $100. And for every child born to an employee we give a like amount."

"How about twins and triplets?" asked a reporter. "It's never happened yet, but the custom stands good for that—shall we call it—emergency, too—$100 for each. These little donations for a 'sunny day' are in addition, of course, to payments made under the general policy of sharing profits with our employees to the extent that the business may permit year by year."

B.C. ELECTRIC REROUTE WIRES

Erection of New Power Line
Into James Bay District
Will Cost $16,000

Work is now progressing to an advanced stage on the re-routing of the B.C. Electric Company's light and power wires that supply the James Bay district, from Government Street over to Quadra Street.

Company officials stated this morning the work will cost in the neighborhood of $16,000.

Up until the present time all the high tension wires to supply James Bay have run along Government Street. For the past few weeks the outside employees of the company have been hard at work removing these wires and erecting a new line out Quadra Street to replace them. The new line starts on Quadra Street at a point just outside the main outskirts of the city.

In this manner the overhead appearance of Government Street has been greatly improved. The company has also introduced a new type of holder that eliminates a great number of the crosspieces on the poles.

HUSKY'S GREAT WORK IS PRAISED BY WELL-KNOWN RESIDENT OF VICTORIA

"Never Anything Like It In This City—a Godsend to Suffering Humanity," Says Shelbourne Street Woman in Letter of Appreciation to MacFarlane Drug Company, Husky Headquarters

This Wonderful Medicine Relieves Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bowel Ailments and Builds Up the System Until a Feeling of Real Health Is Enjoyed

Thousands in Victoria and vicinity, who are using Husky, the herb preparation, distributed by the MacFarlane Drug Company, are well-known victims of this medicine, which relieves stomach, liver, kidney and bowel ailments and builds up the system.

There are, however, sufferers who are not yet aware of the fact that Husky is different from any medicine ever offered in Victoria. A well-known Victoria woman wrote a personal letter to the proprietor of the MacFarlane Drug Co. several days ago expressing appreciation for the help received through the Husky treatment. In order that sufferers might get the facts about Husky direct we wanted to publish her letter. In her desire to help others she gave her permission.

The letter is from Mrs. W. H. F. Richdale, 2642 Shelbourne Street, wife of a well-known Government employee. Mr. and Mrs. Richdale have resided in Victoria for thirty-five years and Mrs. Richdale is prominent in various lodges and clubs in this city. Her letter follows:

Dear Sir: I went in your store and bought a bottle of your medicine, Husky, and I want to tell you that I have never taken anything in all the years in Victoria like it. No one has persuaded me to write, but Husky has done so much for me that I feel it is my duty to tell how it has helped me.

Husky has cleared up a terrible fluttering of the heart that I have had for years. It has also relieved neuritis, or rheumatic pains, with which I was confined to bed. Husky is a Godsend to the woman going through a difficult time in life. I cannot speak too highly of it. I am only too willing, if any ladies want to ask about it privately at my home. Refer them to me and I can open their eyes, for what it has done for me.

If I could afford it I would buy

Mrs. Dennis Banks

"I feel like I am a good judge of medicines as I have tried many, but Husky has given me more relief than anything from stomach trouble, kidney disorder and rheumatic pains," says Mrs. Banks, another pleased Husky user.

Husky and give it free-gratis to suffering people for I know it is a Godsend to suffering humanity.

MRS. W. H. F. RICHDALE
It is the Husky user who can tell best about the merit of this preparation, which places the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in a healthy condition and thereby relieves those common ills such as headaches, dizziness, indigestion, was and sour stomach, constipation, rheumatic pains, nervousness, unsound sleep and weak, worn-out feelings.

CALL AT MACFARLANE DRUG CO.
An expert from the Husky Laboratories is now at the MacFarlane Drug Co., exclusive distributors of Husky, to explain to you about this medicine and how the best and quickest results are obtained from its treatment. Call on him to-day.

WANTED: A NEW AGE LIMIT!

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"The Flying Princess" is a fairy tale. A flying princess at sixty-three sounds more like a fairy tale than reality. True, few ladies of sixty-three are so adventurous, but so are few men for that matter! Why is it more amazing at three-score-and-three years to have an adventure than at twenty, I should like to know?

It was no sudden decision on the part of this princess to try the flight from England to Canada. She has been flying for thirteen years. And before that, her life had been one of vigorous physical activities. She had, indeed, never stopped being active.

I wish someone would invent a new age limit for humanity. Older said forty. A better writer than biologist said twenty-five. Why, Thomas Edison says a man does not even cut his wisdom teeth, figuratively, until he is thirty-five, so how could that be? "He is only beginning then to be useful!"

I believe that remark of Mr. Oster's, heard round the world, did more damage to the human race, physically, than any other teaching of prophet or philosopher since time began. We hear of course of men over fifty dropping dead at tennis, and women over fifty passing peacefully away on street cars they have just chased a block. But that is because they gave up exercising at forty or before, because Mr. Oster said they must.

I know a family that forgets its birthdays. The head told me he insisted on it because it was like counting the ticks of a clock in a death-house, this business of marking time by birthdays. "What's the difference how old you are?" he said. "If you exercise and do as common sense tells you, you let up too soon; that's what does the damage."

PARIS FINANCIER SEES BIG MOVE AHEAD OF COAST

All Canada needs is hard work by leaders of industry and finance and plenty of capital, according to General R. Raymond Brutinel, noted Paris financier, who arrived in Victoria yesterday morning and is at the Empress Hotel with Mile Brutinel and her maid. They are on a five months' tour of this continent.

Prospects for the Pacific Coast area are particularly bright, General Brutinel added. The general gained notoriety in this Province last year by buying $100,000 worth of Prince Rupert real estate to show his faith in the northern coast part of this Province. Before the war he was in British Columbia and was head of the old Prince Rupert Hydro Electric Company, which carried on development work seventeen years ago and was later refused a charter by the city.

During the war and the period of reconstruction in France, Col. W. B. Forster of the Vancouver Board of Trade was one of General Brutinel's chief assistants.

ST. LOUIS DEATHS 140, DAMAGE $75,000,000

but their numbers were inadequate to patrol the stricken area and a regiment of state militiamen was ordered on duty. Orders to shoot looters were issued. Only two reports of looting were made last night, but neither was verified.

The tornado played no favorites. Homes of classic design, the humbler structures, stores, schools, apartment buildings, police stations, all were racked and torn equally.

THUNDER AND LIGHTNING

For an hour before the twister struck, the air was heavy with storm clouds. The continuous low rumbling of thunder was punctuated with lightning. The oppressiveness was dispelled by a rising wind and suddenly the tall-tale black clouds appeared in the sky.

In a twinkling the crashing of glass and the singing of the wind in the trees announced the coming of the tornado. Chimneys crashed, houses heaved and fell, while the air was dark with dust and flying missiles. Witnesses, telling their stories later, spoke of sheets of flame, their origin a mystery, that swept past and dissipated themselves by striking a building or a tree.

WRECKED FROM FOUNDATIONS

Automobiles moved crazily about, overturning and wrecking themselves like playthings of children. Everywhere the threat of falling walls and chimneys and the tearing sound of piazzas being wrenched from their foundations filled the air.

Swift in its coming, the tornado was quick in leaving. From the red homes and stores the frightened and wet occupants appeared in a stream. They found a wilderness of fallen trees to block their way. Hysterical women, supported by men, picked their way out of the debris.

As the danger from fallen power wires became great, self-appointed guards stationed themselves until the police arrived.

A cordon was hastily placed about the section where first aid work was begun within. As the news was flashed to the downtown section, the police and departments hastily mobilized and soon the sirens of fire apparatus and police ambulances announced the coming of outside help.

Travel through the section was slow and from Forest Park to the Mississippi River the city lay almost inert.

Telephone communication virtually was stopped. Word reached a radio station and was broadcast, although persons outside of the area little realized the extent of the catastrophe.

Newspapers were powerless to gather details of the picture and sketchy reports were circulating. Apparent exaggeration became realities shortly afterwards.

FURTHER INJURED

The first movement was toward Central High school. Firemen found sixteen injured pupils who were immediately removed as the roof threatened to fall. The section was dead and begun in all parts of the area. Fire broke out in several places and was extinguished by firemen with the help of a steady drizzle of rain which followed the tornado. The bodies of three women were taken from burning debris, two of them charred beyond recognition. The rain stopped and the sun came out but shortly afterwards another storm threatened and the air itself seemed tinted green, later turning to a pale pink and frightening still more those who had an hour previously seen the elements on a violent rampage.

A citizens' relief committee of thirty-eight with Mayor Victor Miller as chairman, hurriedly was organized to direct relief work.

RELIEF STATION

The Red Cross placed a relief station in the centre of the stricken area and 100 automobiles were being used as ambulances. Mayor Miller issued an appeal for funds.

The damage estimate of from $10,000,000 to $100,000,000 came from E. E. Christopher, building commissioner. Insurance men made a flat estimate of $75,000,000 damage.

The tornado was the second in St. Louis' history. The first struck thirty-one years ago and claimed 148 victims in St. Louis and 100 in its vicinity. The two tornadoes followed generally the same course. The estimated area of the twister of 1896 was eight miles in length and from one-quarter to a mile and a quarter wide.

Throughout the wilderness of crumpled houses, fallen trees, wrecked factories and business buildings and twisted wires, men dug frantically in the darkness all night.

MISSING CHILDREN

Shortly before 4 o'clock to-day explorers seeking the bodies of five missing children in the recently-remodeled Central High School found the bodies of two girls. Seven school buildings, housing 6,500 school children, were in the storm area, but only at the Central High School was there a report of a fatality. Eighteen other pupils in that school were injured when a huge tower was sent crashing down on the auditorium. That the death list did not soar high in the hundreds was attributed to the heavy construction of the buildings in the devastated area. Here and there the debris of what had been a wooden structure gave mute evidence of what might have happened. Old brick houses were crumpled like

CANADA'S BUSINESS VOLUME MAINTAINED

Harvesting of One of Largest Crops Brightens Outlook

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—The physical volume of business in Canada was practically maintained in August as compared with the preceding month, according to an index published in the monthly review of business statistics. The index was 138.0 in August, compared with 138.6 in July, month-to-month comparison being facilitated by adjustment for seasonal tendencies.

Favorable weather during the last two months did much to offset the handicap of a backward season, and the harvesting of one of the largest crops on record has brightened the economic outlook for the next twelve months, the report says. The physical volume of business was less in the third quarter of the present year than in the second. The reaction was made, however, and the movement of the new crop to ultimate markets will tend to expand many of the factors which enter into the Canadian volume of business.

OUR CREDIT ON HIGH

IT WOULD BE AN EXCELLENT THING if our various governments could get along without having to borrow money; but the millennium still is far away and the next best thing is the ability to borrow it at a low rate of interest. This is the fortunate position in which British Columbia finds itself at the present time. The MacLean Government has just floated a loan for which it will pay 4.62½ per cent. This is the cheapest money obtained by any administration in this Province since 1889.

All forms of commercial activity in British Columbia will benefit considerably from this excellent advertisement of our economic condition. The syndicate which acquired our securities is one of international repute that is not interested in any issue unless it is thoroughly reliable and backed by sound policy. The keen competition among the many prominent houses which sent in their bids is unmistakable evidence of their satisfaction with the manner in which the public affairs of this Province are being administered. When a government goes into the money markets for accommodation, it is in much the same position as the businessman who goes to his banker for a loan to tide him over a temporary embarrassment. If he can show good security and is known to be a capable man of business, he gets what he wants on fair terms.

The financial condition of British Columbia is vastly different from what it was a decade ago. At that time our bonds were looked upon as deficit bonds, for borrowing was necessary to make up the deficit in revenue as against expenditure, and they were marketable only at a substantial discount. This was the situation with which the Government that took office at the end of 1916 was compelled to face and change as quickly as possible. The bankers insisted on more taxes and an immediate balancing of the budget, not an easy or palatable task in the late days of the war or in the early days of the reconstruction period. But efficient methods were adopted, and, according to eminent financial authorities, the economic recovery of British Columbia still is regarded as a remarkable achievement. In fact, so steady had been the general recovery that in 1923 the Government began to reduce taxation, and has continued that policy ever since.

This latest sale of the Province's bonds is a striking reflection of the impression the MacLean Government's financial policies have made upon the money market. It is a climax of the general reconstruction programme which has been carried on in this Province in little more than ten years under Liberal auspices. It is a matter for all-round gratification, irrespective of partisan considerations, since it is a declaration by the financial world that the credit of British Columbia has reached a new high mark.

BRITISH LABOR IS WISE

SEVERAL UNITED STATES NEWSPAPERS see in the decision of the British Trade Union Congress to sever relations with the All-Russia Council of Trade Unions the most serious setback Russian Communism so far has received. The London correspondent of The Chicago Tribune says that "the seriousness of the blow lies in the fact that the British trade union movement is the strongest in the world, and has tried to maintain relations with the Russian workers. Now, however, it is fully convinced that the Russian trade union is only another name for the Red Internationale, for which the British unionists have no use."

The card vote on this subject was 2,551,000 to sever relations with the Russian organization and 620,000 to maintain the association, regarded as one of the most determined decisions made by the British body for many years. But there is nothing particularly new about this attitude or in the deep-seated mistrust which the majority of British workers have shown on numerous occasions when the extreme elements of organized Labor have favored a closer relationship with the Russian workers. The average "red" or "pink" in the ranks of Britain's laborers will grumble from one month's end to the next and get a sort of pleasure out of it; he has been doing it for years, sometimes with and sometimes without cause. But grumble he will until the crack of doom. He looks upon it as his business, however, something about which he neither wants nor will he take outside or foreign advice. At that point he bristles with indignation and usually drowns his grouch in a glass of beer.

The chief reason, of course, why the Russian Communists have made no real impression on British Labor is because the British workingman is not the ignorant individual some people imagine. He thinks and reads and takes his politics seriously, and the Moscow plan for world revolution is not the pattern he intends to follow in the certain progress that will lead to a betterment of his lot, the new understanding between Capital and Labor on the basis of mutual trust.

WANTS ANOTHER CHANCE

THE VANCOUVER DAILY PROVINCE professes to hope that the Government will bring on the byelection in Nelson so that "it can get it over and done with" and have more time for running the affairs of the Province. It calls the Government, incidentally, the MacLean-Pattullo Government, this being a silly jibe at the Minister of Lands who, for the time being, is acting-Premier in the absence of Dr. MacLean.

The people of British Columbia are aware of the fact that good government in this Province neither comes to an end nor suffers in the least if the Premier or one or two of his Ministers should be absent from Victoria for a few days. They are aware that it is necessary from time to time for Ministers to travel about the Province to learn its problems and so equip themselves to give the people the good government which The Vancouver Daily Province often prattles about. They are aware that Ministers of the Crown can acquire that information just as well when by-election ground has to be looked over as they can when no contest is in the offing. They are aware, also, that The Vancouver Daily Province would be the first to haul the members of the Cabinet over the coals if they did not go about and meet the people and get first-hand personal knowledge of conditions.

The Province tells us that the byelections in North Okanagan and New Westminster changed nothing and indicated nothing. But before the latter contest we were told by The Province that the issue of good government in British Columbia was directly involved in it. If the candidate whom the Province supported in one of its varying moods had been elected, it would have described the outcome as a declaration by the people of British Columbia that they wanted a new Government. Our Vancouver contemporary hates to back a losing horse. Its eagerness for an early byelection in Nelson may spring from impatience to even things up. Perhaps this time it will back both horses—something it has done before with considerable agility.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

"GENTLEMEN—THE PRESS"
From the Toronto Globe

Ottawa newspapers have certain advantages. The city is compact, its citizenry are largely employed in the Civil Service, with leisure and intelligence, good humor and a broad outlook. Between their hours spent with "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" and the latest issues of The London Observer and The Quarterly Review they may turn to the brilliant columns of The Citizen and The Journal.

The above seems a fair inference from an illuminating article in The Hamilton Herald directing attention to two items which recently found a place in those newspapers. The other day the following appeared in The Journal:

"The Journal? I love The Journal," said Lady Willington as she chatted to a member of the staff of the newspaper while receiving yesterday afternoon at the garden party given by the President and Council of the D.C.R.A. Then she laughingly added: "I read The Journal at 6.30 o'clock every morning with my breakfast. It comes to me on the tray with my cup of tea. And in the afternoon I enjoy my evening edition. What an amazing amount of interesting reading there is in it. From it I get intimate pictures of Canadian life that I value greatly. Look out. I see everything that you write."

On the very same day the following was published in The Citizen:

"The Citizen? I love The Citizen," said Lady Willington as she chatted to a member of the staff of the newspaper while receiving yesterday afternoon at the garden party at the Connaught Rangers given by the President and Council of the D.C.R.A. Then she laughingly added: "I read The Citizen at 6.30 o'clock every morning with my breakfast. It comes to me on the tray with my cup of tea. Look out. I see everything that you write."

We have heard of the joint collection of news by press organizations, and reporters have been known in extreme instances to co-operate and "pool" their news stories, but the coincident appearance in two papers of two items of so intimate a character as we have reproduced is baffling. It will be noticed that Lady Willington spoke "laughingly" in both cases, and that she also uttered the warning "Look out." If the words had come from a less important personage we should think she was laughing up her sleeve—if the dress of that hour of the day had sleeves.

The whole subject seems intricate enough for a Sherlock Holmes—unless, as The Hamilton Herald shrewdly suspects, her Excellency happily possesses a secretary with a keen sense of humor.

LOTS FROM GEOGRAPHY

THE CORAL ISLANDS, of Bermuda, make one of the most enchanting scenes in the world. The little polyps have built up a vast array of coral reefs, that are thickly covered with vegetation. The clouds weave in and out one another, forming strange and beautiful lagoons that are opalescent with the mingled colors of the coral and sea.

SALMON EGGS

Q.—What is done with salmon eggs to feed the salmon rivers of Canada?
A.—The largest single consignment of salmon eggs ever shipped in Canada was recently made by the Fish Culture Service of the Department of Fisheries to the upper waters of the Fraser River in British Columbia of fifteen million, taken from a Government hatchery below Hells Gate Canyon, on the Lower Fraser. They were sown in the spawning grounds of the upper and more northern waters. This artificial planting results in greatly increased catches.

OLD-TIME STAR AT CAPITOL THIS WEEK IN "OUT ALL NIGHT"

Wheeler Oakman portrays a featured role in "Out All Night," starring Reginald Denny, the picture at the Capitol Theatre to-day.
Oakman started in many years ago as the handsome hero and was one of the first actors elevated to stardom in the old Biograph days. Now his main forte is heavy roles and character parts.
Oakman's explanation of the change is a good one and he can take hours in presenting it, but the gist of it is that he does not believe it is necessary to be an actor to be a hero.
"All they have to do is look handsome and wear their clothes well," Oakman contends, while to be the villain or heavy, they have to act every minute to get it over with the audience.

On the stage at the Capitol Theatre
this week are three exceptionally fine vaudeville acts, Aurelio Sciacqua, the noted Italian tenor in song selections,
The Carlton Sisters and Mack, in a novelty presentation, introducing several popular melodies, and Syd Barnes the English Monologist, offers something new and novel in the way of amusement. The Concert Orchestra also featuring a particularly fine program of melodies for the picture attractions.

EVEN THE DIRECTOR LAUGHED AT SCENES IN CHAPLIN COMEDY

Moving picture directors are not usually moved to laughter by the performances they call into being but in several of the sequences of the jungle jamboree known as "The Missing Link,"
the current show at the Dominion, Charles F. Reisner, as well as the rest of the company, burst into uncontrollable mirth.
"I have been making comedies, or acting in them, for sixteen years," said Reisner, "and I insist that this is the funniest film ever shot." Syd Chaplin creator of Old Bill in "Camille" is a laughing stock as he is seen as the hungry and timorous London poet, who suddenly finds himself transformed into a lion hunter on the way to Africa. The picture is a masterpiece of the chase shifts to the capture of a hideous and mysterious monster known as "The Missing Link."

The picture contains besides the "Link" an amazingly clever chimpanzee known as Akka, lions, and many other of the jungle denizens, as well as hundreds of negroes doing the part of head-hunting savages. The piece is the most outrageously laughable film of the year.

"THE OUTLAW DOG" SHOWS RANGER, DOG STAR AT HIS BEST

Up till now we have seen Ranger, the F.B.O. dog-star in films that have their locale among the mountains of Canada or West. That they have pleased can be judged by the enthusiasm of the crowd that welcomed Ranger at the Columbia theatre, where the latest film, "The Outlaw Dog," is now playing. This picture is a real gem in the old angle of Ranger pictures and has for its background the great Santa Fe Railroad.

The expression on the big dog's face leads one to understand that he is not enthusiastic over the change as he likes Western pictures. But like a true artist he rose above his personal feelings and in this picture he is better than he has ever been before.
Ranger loves to act, and as the star of Rex Lease he brings both laughs and tears to the audience.

Pretty little Helen Foster has the role of Helen Meadows, sweetheart of Rex, and she gives a great personal touch to the picture. The picture includes among other things a scene in which Alfred Allen and Suzanne Bell, J. P. McCowan, one of the greatest among canine directors, wield the megaphone for this film, and it is one of his worthiest efforts.

FAMOUS VAMPS OF SCREEN GATHERED FOR FILM "CAMILLE"

Assembling in one scene all the most famous sirens of history, the makers of Norma Talmadge's modern screen
"Camille" have selected the pick of Hollywood's beauties to portray Cleopatra, Sappho, Du Barry and others whose seductive charms swayed men and nations.
This concourse of ancient, medieval and modern sirens which forms one of the highlights in "Camille" is a mad revel at the Dumas heroine's home.
The notable Lorelei, who played havoc with hearts in each period, are represented at the peak of the festivities the "The Lady of the Camellias," most fascinating and exotic of them all, enters and her costume brings gasps from even the other sirens. She is the last word in women loved by men, a girl who has dukes and counts at her feet, but who finally gives her heart to a comparatively poor youth.

That is "Camille," the siren who found her soul.
Directed by a master, Fred Niblo,
the modern "Camille" is admittedly Norma Talmadge's outstanding feature.
The settings, gowns and stage appearances are of a quality that has been rare in the past.
"Camille" is a First National picture.
It comes to the Capitol Theatre next week.

MYSTERY ACTRESS HERE IN PERSON FROM ANTIPODES

The Mystery Film Girl, who will appear at the Dominion Theatre next week in person, picture and song, created a sensation in Australia and New Zealand, where she appeared in all the leading cities and towns prior to coming to Canada. Quick and perceptive, plus a natural talent, has carried her a long way, and the young women of Victoria will doubtless be able to pick up a few real good pointers from her when she appears on the stage. That good looks are not essential for worldly success is the opinion of the Mystery Girl, and as proof of this contention she is willing to quote her own experience.

Referring to the Mystery Girl, The Glasgow Herald says: "Her pictures are a work of art. 'Loch Lomond' and its surroundings at Christmascap, include some of the finest snowscapes ever screened. The Burns country scenes will have particular appeal to Scots abroad, and the Mystery Girl sings Scottish songs. She sings them exceedingly well."

SOUSA FAILED TO GET ROYALTIES ON HIS FAMOUS MARCH

That he has never received a penny of royalty from the sale of the talking-machine records of "Stars and Stripes Forever," possibly the greatest-selling march in the world, is the startling statement of Lieut.-Com. John Philip Sousa, who this season makes his thirty-fifth annual tour with his famous band. Written just thirty years ago "Stars and Stripes Forever" is unofficially the United States national march. From the sale of the sheet music of the composition, Sousa has received almost $500,000. But from the sale of approximately 10,000,000 talking-machine records, Sousa has received nothing.

Sousa and the talking machine came before the public virtually at the same time. In the late nineties, Sousa was pouring forth, one after another, his greatest compositions. The sales of the music were bringing him a modest fortune—perhaps the most money that any United States composer ever had received. Then came the talking machines. Under existing copyright laws the manufacturer was not compelled to pay royalties. Sousa headed a fight for a law which would give the composer a share in the profits and in 1909 a law was passed. That law, still in effect, gives the composer a penny on each record sold, providing the number was composed after the passage of the law. Thus old Sousa numbers actually are given the preference with the makers of talking machine records over new compositions, because no royalty is due on them. Only recently, "The Yorktown Centennial," which Sousa wrote in 1881 to commemorate the surrender of Cornwallis, was brought out as a talking machine record.

Sousa has led three distinct fights in behalf of the composer of the United States. In addition to the fight which ended in the granting of royalties upon talking machine records, he took part in the campaign which ended in the payment by motion picture theatres of a lump annual sum based upon seating capacities for the use of music in the motion picture theatres and also the fight to compel radio stations to pay royalties upon compositions put on the air.
Sousa and his band will appear at the Arena for two concerts on Monday, October 3.

FIGHT PICTURES TO SHOW DETAILS OF FAMOUS BOUT

The Tunney vs. Dempsey fight pictures that will be shown at the Coliseum Theatre next week, are just what the Victoria theatregoers and fight fans have been waiting for.
The famous seventh round will be shown both at the ordinary rate of speed and also in slow motion.
By seeing this round in slow motion one can see one better than those who were actually at the fight and can watch every detail, whereas in the excitement of the fight and the great speed at which the fighters were going,
many did not realize what was happening.

When Dempsey, the heavy slugger, with a barrage of rights and lefts to Tunney's jaw, sent him down for the count of nine; or was it twelve, or fourteen, can be timed in the pictures. It was undoubtedly the fight of the age and there will not be another like it for many a long day to come, unless there is another Dempsey born into the world, which is very unlikely.

Victoria theatregoers and fight fans alike, are assured of a real treat, when this picture is shown at the Coliseum Theatre next week along with the regular feature picture and the five acts of vaudeville.

There is already a big demand for seats but none will be reserved. To cope with the large crowds that are expected, Manager G. L. Nichols, will run a special matinee every day next week, at a slightly reduced price from the evening fare. The doors open at 3 p.m. on Monday, October 3, and the performance starts at 2.30 p.m.

"THE RED WIDOW" PLEASES HOUSE AT OPENING SHOW

Royal Victoria Theatre Packed
With Enthusiastic Audience
Art Kerr Scores in Comedy
Role; Whole Cast Merits
Praise

"The Red Widow" made a successful first appearance last night, when the great New York musical comedy success produced by local amateur talent was presented by the Victoria Gyro Club at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Playing before a large and enthusiastic house, the artists impressed their audience primarily with the fact that they were well cast, thoroughly trained and possessed of a professional self-possession.

The music, hitting and enchanting,
did not lack for voices to interpret it.
Miss Lily Wilson, in the role of "The Red Widow," Anna Varvara, the scheming nihilist who really is a very nice sort of person, is a medalist from vocal competitions and has a sweet soprano voice well suited to her part. Sup-der of amateur dramatic achievement.

Mr. Kerr was a contributing factor to the success of the performance.
Miss Merle North appeared as the wife of the rather involved Colonel, and took the role of a hard-hearted spouse satisfactorily. She was another very good reason for Mr. Kerr's popularity as a character. She necessarily played her part to perfection.

THE MYSTERY OF PARIS

By Lucile LaMotte

Paris and Fashion are synonymous. The answer to every question of where does a Fashion originate is "Paris,"—in the same breath with the names of Patou, Poiret, Vionnet, Chanel, Rebox, etc. That's supposed to satisfy all curiosity on the subject—but it never does—at least, not with me. One always visualizes these Kings and Queens of Fashion enthroned in their establishments and creating out of thin air the fashions that are to revolutionize the mode with each successive season.

The little scene is almost true but not quite. The Queens do not stay at their courts but they and their envoys roam the world—for ideas. Paris is not the source of Fashion; rather it is the world we live in.

While in Africa, Rebox saw a comely African belle in her dress headgear, and with her infinite imagination saw an adaptation of this outlandish affair for the modern smart woman. Poiret in Russia was beguiled by a group of peasants working in the field. Their rakish blouses fascinated him,—and so we have the present smart costume blouse because of his powers of visualization.

All these inimitable artists travel constantly—and from the lowliest object to the most exalted, they get their inspiration. From the Arabian desert at sunset came the colors that have been so much in vogue in hosiery for these seasons past. From the court costume of a lovely Spanish queen came the stichery of the new cuffed gloves. And, yes, from the dancing girls on our own stage came the first brief underthings.
On, and on and on, ad infinitum.

The making of a fashion is an absorbing task—but it takes its creators far afield into strange lands among strange people—oftentime into the hazy past just for that elusive will-o'-the-wisp—an idea. It may interest you to know that Kayser was first with the new desert shades in HOSEY—with the new GLOVE stichery—and, the first brief styles in UNDERWEAR.

STYLE No. 101X will Wear and Wear and Wear

It is a known fact that Kayser full fashioned hosiery gives surprising wear.
Our Style No. 101X—clear in texture, silk to the hem, in a heavier weight and with the Square Heel—is now being shown in authentic Paris shades individual with Kayser.

BIG ENROLMENT AT VICTORIA COLLEGE

225 Students This Year as Against 74 in 1920; Library
Extended

Victoria College opened its doors on Tuesday with an enrolment of 225 students, the largest registration in the history of the institution. In comparison with this year's enrolment, the first year Victoria College operated, 1920-21, there was an attendance of 74 and last year 191. Each year Victoria College has been growing in popularity among the university students of Victoria and Vancouver Island, as it has increased the subject courses offered and extended its reputation for efficient instruction.

Affiliated with the University of British Columbia, Victoria College confines its instruction to the first two years of university work. A wide range of options is permitted in each year. The number of students enrolled in each department is as follows: Classics (Latin and Greek) 25, economics 21, English 217, French 126, history 120, mathematics 190, philosophy 20, science 236. These departments provide twenty courses including first and second year work in the above-mentioned subjects, and in chemistry, physics and biology. In addition to the lectures provided, Victoria College is now able to extend its library facilities to the student body. The co-operation of the Provincial and the Victoria Public Libraries with the local School Board has made an adequate library possible. Through loans and gifts from these libraries as well as gifts from the libraries of the University of British Columbia and the University of Washington, most valuable reference material will be available to the students. These books, through the assistance of the Victoria Public Library, will be properly catalogued and thereby made readily accessible.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN TO AIR MANY PROBLEMS

Heavy Agenda For Annual Meeting at Stratford Tuesday; B.C. Recommendations

Some problems of paramount importance to women, both nationally and internationally, will be on the agenda for discussion at the annual meeting of the National Council of Women, which is to be held in Stratford, Ontario, on October 4, 5, 6 and 7. Mrs. C. de V. Schofield, who is in the East with the Bishop of Columbia, has been asked to represent the Victoria body at this meeting.

Among the recommendations emanating from the International Council of Women are the following:

"The I.C.W. desires that a woman lawyer be placed on the Committee for the Codification of International Law in order to represent women's interests in the discussion of all questions relating to women and children."

"The Executive Committee recommends the National Councils to take measures to secure that whenever necessary the laws against traffickers or male persons living on the earnings of prostitutes, be strengthened and that their applications be simplified by international agreement."

"Recognizing the great humanitarian importance of those measures which have been taken by the High Commissioner under the League of Nations and the International Labor Office for the protection of the Russian and Armenian Refugees, the Executive Committee of the International Council of Women expresses the wish that such measures be extended to other analogous groups of refugees and persons who have lost their nationality, and would recommend that the Council of the League of Nations and the Administration of the International Labor Office should take the necessary steps to carry out this purpose."

AGE OF CONSENT

"That the League of Nations be asked to draw the attention of the states members in countries where the age of consent is lower than the age of marriage to the necessity of raising the age of consent at least to that of the legal age of marriage."

"That the League of Nations be asked to draw the attention of the states members in countries where the age of consent is lower than the age of marriage to the necessity of raising the age of consent at least to that of the legal age of marriage."

BIOLOGY IN SCHOOLS

Other recommendations from the International Council call for the teaching of biology in schools, the establishment of compulsory continuation schools in which provision would be made for continuation courses in domestic science and agriculture, and co-operation with the International Committee of Intellectual Co-operation of the League of Nations.

B.C. RECOMMENDATIONS

British Columbia's Provincial Council recommends a survey of the divorce laws in each province and the establishment of a just basis in the granting of alimony; and also requests the Dominion Government to be appointed to the Senate or, if the British North America Act forbids or debar women from being so appointed, that the Imperial Government be requested to amend the Act so that this right may be granted.

SALES TAX ON ART

The Edmonton Local Council has submitted the following resolution: "That the National Council do petition the Federal Government to abolish the sales tax on paintings, oils and water-colors, etchings and other works of art, coming into Canada from a foreign country and consigned to an incorporated museum or association for the advancement of the fine arts in Canada, when such works of art are being imported for any of the following purposes:

1. To be exhibited temporarily as a loan and afterwards exported.
2. To be added by purchase by any such museum or association to its permanent public exhibition or collection of works of art.
3. To be presented as a gift to any such museum or association and to be placed by them in their permanent public exhibition of works of art.

SIR GUY GAUNT SUED FOR DIVORCE

British Admiral Who Spent Year Here Cited in London

London, Sept. 30.—A sequel to the mysterious disappearance of Admiral Sir Guy Gaunt, who finally was "discovered" in British Columbia last year, was revealed in the High Court when the entry of cases for the coming term was published. Lady Gaunt is suing the Admiral for divorce and, under the new regulations, the details are secret.

The secrecy rule has given a lively spur to belated divorce petitioners. Out of 700 cases, 600 are divorce suits undefended, with 120 more to be heard secretly before the judge alone. The undefended suits include a petition for the restitution of conjugal rights by Lady Humbro against Sir C. E. Humbro, famous international banker, and a suit for divorce by Countess Gosford against the Earl of Gosford.

The defended suits include a hearing of Lady Fitzherbert's demand for judicial separation from Sir H. M. Fitzherbert.

Sir Guy Gaunt spent about a year in Victoria, outfitting his schooner "The Four Winds," sailing from here last Fall for Europe by easy stages.

MANY GIFTS LEFT AT W.C.T.U. HOME

Annual Pound Party Yesterday Attended by Many Friends

The W.C.T.U. Home for Women, 104 Street, held its annual pound party yesterday afternoon, the affair being a gratifying success. In practical results the afternoon netted for the home the sum of about $42 in cash, together with groceries and other gifts which will replenish the supply cupboards. More intangible, but equally welcome to the committee of management was the great interest displayed in the home and its work among the fortunate girls by the many friends who took advantage of the opportunity of being invited to the home.

Mrs. David Spencer Sr., president of the committee, together with Mrs. Burkholder, Mrs. W. H. Gee, Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. A. E. Mitchell, Mrs. William Grant, Mrs. F. W. Laing, and Mrs. Frank, and Mrs. McFarlane, matron of the home, received the many guests. The home was thrown open for inspection and many of the visitors expressed their admiration of its spotless condition and home-like air.

The reception room was beautifully decorated with pink and white flowers, the gift of Mrs. William Grant, and in the dining room where tea was served, similar flowers graced the tea table.

EUGENISTS FORESEE GLOOMY FUTURE
Say There Will be no Beautiful or Brilliant Women Before Long

New York, Sept. 30.—It will be a sad and gloomy future, in two or three centuries, for indications are that there will be practically no beautiful or brilliant women, wrote Professor Ellsworth Huntington of Yale University, and Leon F. Whitman, secretary of the Eugenics Society of America, in a book, "The Builders of America," published yesterday.

In five generations 200 fathers of the brain workers type will leave but twenty-eight descendants, while an equal number of unskilled workers will be produced, unless action is done. Their statistical studies revealed this trend.

The authors warned that unless birth control was stopped among the upper classes and its use legalized among the so-called lower classes, a most valuable portion of the population of America would die out and the country would be overrun by inferior groups.

THE FAMILY TABLE NOT FOR BABY

As soon as young son is sitting in his high chair, of course it may be young daughter—mother yearns to bring him to the family table. He looks so cunning, beating his spoon on the tray, and holding out his fat hands for the food he sees that it is a temptation hard to resist. Also this is father's one chance to eye his offspring proudly, and when another effort to feed the baby is made, he is reminded of the fact that the baby's table is a place where he should be. But don't let him sit at the family table. He is a baby, and he should be treated as such. He is a baby, and he should be treated as such. He is a baby, and he should be treated as such.

NIGHT SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS ARE CHOSEN

City School Board Also Makes Provision For Teachers' Extension Series

Well-known Teachers Will be Engaged to Handle Technical Subjects

Instructors for the night school classes were selected by the City School Board in a special session yesterday afternoon, when it was reported that the anticipated attendance this year would eclipse all previous records.

The classes are to be held mainly on Monday and Thursday evenings in the High School and Technical School buildings. Special night classes in college subjects will also be held, to enable teachers to advance their standing in first and second year college subjects in English, history and French.

Appointments to the night school staff were made, with only a few vacancies yet to be filled. The teachers selected include T. R. Wheaton and H. S. Hurn, continuation class; J. O. Welch and John Dee, preliminary class; Mrs. W. Mendelsohn, French; Madam Thorne, bookkeeping; J. J. McKim, shorthand; Miss Moore, typewriting; Norman Lee, salesmanship; G. Broad, bookwork; G. Anstey, sheetmetal; J. J. Rippon, machine shop; A. D. Robertson, machine drawing; W. H. Hutchison, mathematics; W. J. Thompson, Spanish; Mrs. Hutchison, electrical engineering; Capt. Berrill, architectural drawing; T. E. Ainscough, lettering; Mrs. Lennie and Mrs. Mercer, millinery; Miss F. Martin, cooking; Madame Vivent, French; L. Bullock, Webster, special speaking.

The special classes in college subjects for teachers were constituted a few years ago and are self-supporting. They are among the most popular courses of the extra school work, and advantage of the facility taken yearly by a large number of junior teachers wishing to advance themselves in their work.

Farmer-Labor Man Wins in New Zealand

Auckland, N.Z., Sept. 30.—(Vancouver Province Cable)—The Government candidate has been defeated by Martin, the Labor candidate, following the death of one of the Ministers, Hon. R. F. Holland, who held the Raglan seat for sixteen years.

The district was largely rural, but contained 1,000 miners, and vote-splitting favored the Labor candidate. Martin is the first Farmer-Laborite elected in New Zealand.

HEAD OF SHANGHAI FORCE COMING HERE

Col. Sir Francis Burnett, D.S.O., C.M.G., Due on Empress of Asia

Col. Sir Francis Burnett, D.S.O., C.M.G., of the Shanghai defence force, will arrive Sunday on the Canadian Pacific liner the Empress of Asia, which will dock here at 2 p.m. Sir Francis will go through to England.

Other prominent passengers include the well-known travelers, Col. F. D. Henslowe and Sir Michael Duff, who are concluding a round-the-world trip, open October 1st, in the Canadian Pacific liner the Empress of Asia, which will dock here at 2 p.m. Sir Francis will go through to England.

The Asia has a passenger list of just under 400 and capacity cargo shipments with a high percentage of the mail for Canadian and United States Atlantic ports.

Cable communication received this morning from the commander, L. D. Douglas, gave the position of the vessel at midnight Thursday as 1,135 miles out.

Ten convalescent soldiers from the Shanghai defence force are on the ship. They are destined for the Shaughnessy Military Hospital at Vancouver.

Witness Admits His Evidence Was False

Was Under Influence of Drug He Tells Vancouver Assize Jury

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Unhesitatingly admitting that evidence given by him in police court was false in every important particular, Jack King Nosenoff, self-confessed drug addict and thief, denied the truth of incriminating statements made by him against Dr. Sam Blumberger, when called Thursday afternoon as a witness against Blumberger, on trial at the assize, charged with receiving stolen goods, knowing them to have been stolen.

Nosenoff, who is serving a six-month sentence in Okalla for theft of a number of silk dresses belonging to S. H. Ware, from an auto on Water Street, had had in police court that when he sold the dresses to Blumberger the latter knew that he had stolen them.

Under the influence

On the stand Thursday he declared that he was not true to the defence. Nosenoff said he had been a drug addict since 1919 and admitted serving several terms in Okalla and New Westminster penitentiaries.

The case is proceeding.

"You call him 'Doctor' Blumberger. Does he also deal in dry goods?" asked the court.

"Not that I know of, sir. I was in the need of narcotics at the time and had no money, so took the dresses to him. I got an advance of $3 and a 'shot' of morphine. I was to go up again and get the balance if the dresses suited his wife," said Nosenoff.

"Then you were deliberately telling lies when you made those statements to the police court?" asked Mr. Justice Macdonald.

"Yes, sir," replied Nosenoff.

Under cross-examination by R. L. Macdonald, counsel for the defence, Nosenoff said he had been a drug addict since 1919 and admitted serving several terms in Okalla and New Westminster penitentiaries.

The case is proceeding.

ALASKA PENINSULAR VOLCANO IN ERUPTION

Is Reported by Seattle Captain on Return From Season's Fishing

Seattle, Sept. 30.—The eruption late in August of Meigi, a volcano on Alaska Peninsula across Shelikof Strait from Kodiak Island, was reported here today by Captain Harry W. Crosby, president of the Crosby Fisheries, who arrived aboard the floating cannery, Salmon King, after a season in Alaskan waters.

Meigi volcano is near Mount Katmai, which was in violent eruption in 1912, 1914, and has been smoking periodically since then.

Thousands of tons of pumice stone and ashes have been blown over an area fifty miles square, Captain Crosby said. He brought several samples of the volcanic rock.

"We were about fifty miles off the Alaska Peninsula," he said, "in clear weather, when suddenly we noticed a gigantic puff at the top of Meigi, which is a short distance west of Kodiak Island."

"Soon the air was filled with volcanic ash and it began to rain pumice stone."

Under cross-examination by R. L. Macdonald, counsel for the defence, Nosenoff said he had been a drug addict since 1919 and admitted serving several terms in Okalla and New Westminster penitentiaries.

VICTORIA WILL FIGHT BEFORE COMMISSION

Railway Refuses Request; Chamber Directors Are Behind President

Victoria will place its case before the Board of Railway Commissioners to procure for the city an inter-switching system to assist industries with markets far afield and bolster the trade of local manufacturers.

Such a railroad system, authorities maintain, would not only encourage existing industries but influence the establishment of others at this port. At the meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors to-day, that body backed its president, C. P. W. Schwenger, to the limit in his fight for this accommodation.

Mr. Schwenger has accepted the challenge of the C.P.R. and while the whole tenor of communications between him and George Stephen, traffic manager, has been sympathetic, friendly relations existing between the company and this city, Victoria will fight on for the additional facilities.

Mr. Schwenger has informed Mr. Stephen that Victoria is not satisfied with any temporary expedient which the company could offer.

The meeting of the directors, called last week specially to consider what action to take in this matter, gave Mr. Schwenger this authority and backed him as did the directors assembled to-day.

Mr. Schwenger was not present, and J. L. Beckwith presided.

A telegram from Mr. Stephen was received recently stating that his company could not consistently agree to participate in Victoria's proposition, urging the inter-changing railroad facilities.

Mr. Schwenger, in keeping with plans laid at the special meeting last week, wired back to Mr. Stephen that Victoria would seek her ends at the session of the Board of Railway Commissioners here, October 21, despite the attitude of the C.P.R.

The directors went on record as being in full accord with Mr. Schwenger's action.

The City Council has already indicated its strong support of the chamber's president, and is staunchly willing to assist in any way possible.

When the whole situation was laid before the directors by George I. Warren to-day, there was no discussion. The special meeting had already established the line of action they would be prepared to go to the last and highest tribunal to fight their case.

WILL CO-OPERATE

A request from the Kelowna Board of Trade asking the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to co-operate with other British Columbia public bodies to influence restaurants and railroad and steamship dining-room rates to recommend British Columbia fruit to patrons and diners, was received to-day. The directors went on record as being in full accord with Mr. Schwenger's action.

An invitation from the Good Roads League of British Columbia to the general membership of the chamber to attend its convention on October 17 at Nanaimo, was received.

An offer from the "Victoria Boys' Orchestra" to perform for the benefit of the city at any time they were required, elicited the thanks of the directors. The orchestra's general membership of the chamber to attend its convention on October 17 at Nanaimo, was received.

Work Is Greatest Stabilizer of Health

By EDWIN J. CLAPP

Most of us look forward to retirement from business, though we are constantly witnessing the rapid waning of men who get out of harness.

Work is the greatest stabilizer of health that we have. It is better to equip ourselves to meet work than to run away from it. The goal of man's activities ought not to be retirement but a prolongation of his working period, according to Dr. Eugene L. Flak, probably the greatest authority on the health of business men. Dr. Flak says: "Complete retirement from business is a dangerous thing for any man unless it is necessitated by complete inability to take business responsibility of any kind. Most men soon begin to fade when they have no important decisions to make and no one looks to them for guidance in the fields where they have spent their lives in useful labor."

We can prolong our period of useful work by ten to twenty years, according to Dr. Flak, if we will give our bodies and our working methods the same careful consideration we give our machinery and our office methods.

Moreover, these ten or twenty years would be added to that part of life when we are most useful to our organizations and our families. No measure of national conservation could be more valuable than success in keeping our business leaders at work ten or twenty years longer, retaining their experience, judgment and sense of proportion and keeping them in a state of health and flexibility, receptive to new ideas and methods and with vigor to put them into practice.

Dr. Flak attacks several of our fallacies. It is easy to think that we are ill because we are tired. The truth is that we are usually tired because we are ill. He says that it is impossible to strain the brain and nervous system of any healthy man by hard executive work in an ordinary business day. The quantity of work does not hurt a healthy man. Sometimes he is injured by the method of doing it, as when he must assume heavy gambling risks with intense anxiety and worry; or when he allows the poisons of anger and hatred to cripple him. Serenity is the basis of mental hygiene.

Periodic health examinations, doctors are agreed, can greatly reduce the principal causes of mortality among business men: diseases of the heart and circulation, tuberculosis, cancer, apoplexy, kidney trouble and diabetes. From these causes alone we have an annual loss of about 700,000 lives.

As never before the business man needs to force himself to exercise in this age of push buttons, elevators and automobiles, subways, office buildings and apartment living deprive him of his needed supply of fresh air and sunshine, and these must be artificially replaced. The sedentary worker must fight against overindulgence in food and against overweight.

Fortunately, the remedy keeps pace with the malady; otherwise there would not be much hope for civilization. In the last twenty-five years medical science has learned more than in any century regarding the laws of health and the methods of applying these laws. Organizations like Dr. Flak's life extension institute have arisen to make a periodical audit of a man's physical condition and prescribe checks against incipient disease. Exercise is offered by gymnasia, health farms and air machines for the home. The book-stores are flooded with works on diet.

Everyone ought to be interested in the possibility of extending the best part of his life for ten or twenty years.

MADE MOVIES IN CANNIBAL LAND—Edith Roberts and her husband, Kenneth Snook of Los Angeles, have returned after seven months in the Fiji Islands, where they made movie subjects of the reigning cannibal king and 2,000 natives. Australian movie interests backed the film.

English railways run faster trains than American railways. In 1924 ten English trains were running on schedules faster than the fastest American schedule.

Eleven Football Matches Will Be Played To-morrow

Junior and Juvenile Teams Will Swing Into Action; Three First Division Games

Westies Take on Thistles at Royal Athletic; City Clash With Five C's at Hill

With eleven matches scheduled football fans will have plenty of entertainment offered up for their benefit to-morrow. Three matches will be in the First Division, while the junior and juvenile clubs will open their season.

The First Division matches will be as follows:
Victoria Westies vs. Saanich Thistles, Royal Athletic Park.
Five C's vs. Victoria City at Beacon Hill.

Equimault vs. 16th Canadian Scottish, at Work Point Barracks grounds. All games start at 3 o'clock. The feature match to-morrow will be between the Westies and Saanich Thistles at the Royal Athletic Park. The Westies, under the management of Dr. Poynts this year, came through last week with an 8-0 victory over the Canadian Scottish. The greenhorns have practically reorganized their club and a lot of new faces now appear in their line-up. A number of youngsters are playing this year and the greenhorns appear to have a formidable club.

The Saanich Thistles who last week sent the Five C's down to a 3-1 defeat have every confidence of turning over the Westies and spanking them. The Thistles are fielding practically the same team that carried them through so well last season.

CITY MAKE A CHANGE
At Beacon Hill, Victoria City, conquerors of Equimault last week, will take the Five C's. The city will trot out the same team as last Saturday with the exception of Kelman who has been replaced by "Scotty" Dowds. The City made a more creditable showing last week and their backers claim they are the team to beat. With several youngsters on their club as well as some steady veterans they have a well balanced side which will take a lot of beating.

Playing their first match in senior company the Five C's have been added to the opening game of the season. They expect to give the City a good match.

After a defeat last week against the Westies last week the 16th Canadian Scottish have strengthened up for their meeting with Equimault at Work Point. Five new men have been added to their line-up for to-morrow and they hope to force last year's champions, Equimault, to a surprise upset last week in defeat at the hands of the City. They are going out after a victory to-morrow in order to keep close to the leaders.

OPEN THEIR SEASON
Junior and juvenile teams will usher in the season to-morrow with eight matches on the programme. These leagues have had so large an entry this season that it has been found necessary to play under thirteen and under fifteen years matches in the morning.

The youngsters have been talking about the opening of the season all week and to-morrow they will get into action. With so many youngsters taking part soccer is bound to prosper in Victoria.

The junior and juvenile games will be as follows:

JUNIOR LEAGUE
Saanich Rovers vs. Bapco, at Central Park.
Equimault vs. Y.M.C.A. at Victoria West Park, 3 p.m. Referee: Woodley.

JUVENILE LEAGUE
(Under Eighteen Years)
Royal Oak, vs. Equimault, Lower Central Park, 3 p.m. Referee: Woodley.
Saanich Rovers vs. James Bay, Upper Beacon Hill, 2:45 p.m. Referee: A. M. McKay.

Tillicums vs. Five C's, at Royal Athletic Park at 1:45 p.m. Referee: Baxter.
(Under Fifteen Years)
Equimault vs. Saanich Rovers, Victoria West Park, 11 a.m.
Five C's vs. Bapco, Beacon Hill, Haywood Avenue, 11 a.m. Referee: Harrison.

SUCCESS IN FIRST YEAR?

It is practically a certainty that the Pittsburgh Pirates will win the National League pennant this year and face the New York Yankees in the world's series. The Pirates have only a two-game lead, with three games remaining to be played, but it is expected that the leaders will be able to win at least one more game, which will preclude any possibility of either the St. Louis Cardinals or the New York Giants getting in. Donie Bush is managing the Pirates. He came up from the American Association last Spring to take over the Pirates, who had been handled for several years by McKechnie. Bush used to play third base for the Detroit Tigers and he was a smart ball player. He is a fighter and he has made the Pirates fight all season. Pittsburgh were in the world's series two years ago.

Mainland Cricket Eleven Coming To Play For B.C. Title

Incogs Will Defend Tomain Cup Against Vancouver City Over Week-end

Cricket has just about run itself out in Victoria for 1928, but one match remains to be played. The Incogs, winners of the Victoria and District Cricket League, are slated to meet the mainland league champions, Vancouver City, in a match for the Tomain Cup, which denotes the championship club of the Province. The match will be played over the week-end at the University Grounds, Mount Tolmie.

The Incogs at present hold the Tomain Cup. They won the championship last year and took possession of the cup from Victoria who defeated the Mainland champions in a match on the mainland the previous year. The Incogs have an extremely powerful side this year and should the visitors catch them in real hitting form they will be in for a busy day.

The Mainlanders intend to make a determined effort to take the cup back to Vancouver.

This match will bring to a close the cricket season in British Columbia. The Incogs' team will be as follows: Capt. Howden, P. A. Sparks, Reg Wenman, G. Wenman, R. C. Jackson, R. H. Tye, B. S. H. Tye, H. A. Allen, G. Phillips and J. Hodgson.

LAWN BOWLING

The final for the singles championship of the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club and possession of the Trustees' silver bowl was the greatest final so far seen on the new green.

The players, Peter Johnston and Alf Edwards, are two of the youngest bowlers in the district, and both have been showing excellent form all Summer.

The game went to twenty-six ends, twelve and fourteen, the score being tied on eight heads. All of the forty shots counted were inside fourteen inches, and the winning shot was won on a measure.

Both players were heartily congratulated at the close, and the full membership of the club will be present tonight to see the cup handed to the winner at the annual social.

The final count was: Johnston 21; Edwards 19, the latter having the distinction of being the runner-up in three finals this season.

Duncan Basketball Team Organizes and Wants Teams to Play

Duncan, Sept. 30.—The Duncan Basketball Club held a meeting in Duncan on Wednesday evening. In the unavoidable absence of the president, the chair was taken by A. M. Drom.

From reports made there is a prospect of having two outside teams join the league.

If possible games for A and B teams will be arranged every week. Practice begins October 3 and the first league match will probably be arranged for October 15.

A. M. Drom, manager of outside games, will be pleased to hear from any teams wishing a match against Duncan.

Shanks, E. Beggers, Moulton, P. Beggers, Eden Quindston, Eric Quindston, Thorne and Sutton. Reserves, MacDonald and Pinkston.

Chess Masters Draw In Their Sixth Game

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 30.—Another draw marked the conclusion of the sixth game here last night in the world championship chess match between Jose R. Capablanca, the present champion, and Alexander Alekhine of Russia. Capablanca had made thirty-nine moves, and Alekhine forty when they agreed that further play was useless in view of the evenness of their positions. The seventh game will be started this evening.

Uplands Caddies to Play For Club Title

The caddies of the Uplands Golf Club will play for the club championship over the week-end at the University Grounds. Eighteen holes will be played. The draw is as follows:

Clubhouse of Regina Golf Club Goes Up In Smoke; Loss $20,000

Regina, Sept. 30.—Known to golfers throughout the West, the clubhouse of the Regina Golf Club will be seen no more in its old familiar form. Fire breaking out in the early hours this morning, consumed it entirely. All the building and equipment therein was lost.

In addition, a quantity of the personal effects of members were burned. The total loss is estimated at $20,000, fully covered by insurance.

Canadian Women's Golf Is Making Tremendous Strides

Toronto, Sept. 30.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Association held yesterday proved to be the most encouraging in the history of the Union. Reports of the officers showed that the organization is in a more flourishing condition than ever, while the reports from various provincial branches told of the growth and progress in each of the different sections of the country.

The election of officers resulted in the return of all the national officers.

Ruth Confident He Will Get One More Homer This Season

Having Tied Record He Has Two More Games in Which to Clout Another Homerun

Just Missed Two Other Four-ply Wallops Yesterday; Pittsburgh Seems Sure

Baseball interest was divided to-day between Babe Ruth's efforts to establish a new home run record and the closing manoeuvres in the National League race, where the Pittsburgh Pirates need only one more victory to clinch the flag, although St. Louis and New York are not altogether out of the running.

Ruth yesterday tied his 1921 record of fifty-nine runs when he belted the ball out of the stadium in the fifth inning of the Washington game, which New York won 15 to 4. The bases were loaded at the moment and Paul Hopkins, a recruit, was pitching. Ruth's fifty-eighth homer came in the first inning with the bases empty and Horace Lisenbee on the mound.

JUST MISSED ANOTHER
More than 20,000 fans jammed to their feet and applauded the Babe as his fifty-ninth scored over the right field wall. In the seventh Ruth caromed the ball off the right field wall for a triple, and in the ninth he drove a "cowering fly" to right which came down to few feet inside the playing field and into a fielder's hands.

The captain of the home-run industry has two more games to play against Washington, and is confident he will get his sixtieth homer before the curtain is rung down on the American League season.

CARDS UPSET
Much of the tenacity in the National League race passed yesterday when Cincinnati clapped a 3-2 beating on the St. Louis Cards. With Pittsburgh players in the stands the Reds got to Frankhouse, Texas League circuit, for all their runs in the fourth. Aside from that inning Frankhouse, who had won his first five starts in fast company, was well-nigh invincible. He gave only five hits, but while the Cards touched Jackie May for eight, they did not touch him with effect.

If either New York or St. Louis is to get into the running the Pirates must drop all three games at Cincinnati. Should that highly-improbable upset occur, the Cardinals will win their three games and Cards win two they have left to play, all three teams would be in a dead tie.

League rules require that in such an event a series of nine games must be played to determine the winner. That would hold up the world series for ten days or longer.

ATHLETES TIED UP
Two other games were played yesterday in the majors. In the American, Philadelphia ran up against a tartar in Bradley, Eastern League recruit, who pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 6-1 victory. The Mackmen obtained only five hits. Cantrell, a new addition to the Philadelphia hurling corps, was in the box for the first time.

The Philadelphia Nationals romped over the Boston Braves 7-1. Kent Greenfield was ineffective, the Quakers pounding him for thirteen hits and seven runs in the first seven innings. Ray Miller, young pitcher from Syracuse, kept his hits scattered.

Yesterday's results were as follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE
St. Louis ..... 2 8 2
Cincinnati ..... 3 5 0
Batteries: Frankhouse and Snyder; J. May and Pincush.

Philadelphia ..... 7 14 0

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 30.—For a second time the opening of the "Little World's Series" was postponed because of rain yesterday.

The first game, if weather permits, will be played to-day and the two teams—Toledo and Buffalo, will leave to-night for the Saturday and Sunday games in Buffalo.

Batteries: Martin and Schmidt; W. Murphy and Cook.

LEADS CAPITALS AGAINST VANCOUVER

DICK WILSON

To-night the Victoria Canadian rugby team leaves for Vancouver to meet the Mainlanders to-morrow in the opening game of the "Big Four" League, and will be led on the field by Dick Wilson, former McGill star. The Victorians, under the able coaching of Ernie Cook, have developed new signals, and it will be up to Wilson to see that these are carried out on the field. Victoria won the British Columbia championship last year and the boys are anxious to take the title again. "Varsity, Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria comprise the league, which is making a determined and apparently successful effort to establish the game in this Province. The first game in Victoria will be played on Saturday, October 1.

Bobby Jones On Golf

Physical Conditions Seldom Change Quickly in Golf—Mental Game Often Does—Player Should Never Let Up in Play

Form varies in golf from day to day probably more than in any other sport and better men than I could spend more time than I have spent trying without success to find the reason for it. There is no way to explain satisfactorily why a man can play eighteen holes in better than seventy on one day and close to eighty on the next.

One day years ago I was playing in a club sweepstakes at East Lake. The competition was eighteen holes medal play with handicaps: I was out in 52; four under par and felt I was certain to finish in 66 or 67. What I actually made was 79, for I played the last nine in 47 strokes, and had to hole a twenty-five-foot putt for a nine on the tenth hole.

And then I remember how pleased I was with myself after I had scored a 63 at East Lake in a friendly round. I knew at last that I had reached the top and had mastered the game. But in my next round I stopped counting when I reached eighty on the seventh hole.

BREAK DOWN COMPLETELY
Of course if form varied only from day to day excursions by crack players into the high seventies and low eighties might be explained by saying that the weather or anatomical complications were responsible; but we have all seen a man apparently at the top of his game, break down completely in the short space of one or two holes.

It seems to me that the only thing we can oppose to these facts is the fact that the mind is the factor in the game. Physical conditions seldom change appreciably within a few minutes, but one pessimistic or unaggressive thought, one defensive idea may lose a golf match.

MUST KEEP STRIVING OR PERISH
Jim Barnes used to say to me that I could never win a match by playing too much against a good field until I learned to rest myself when I could obtain a breathing spell, and for me it doesn't work. But for me it doesn't work.

If I am able to get what might be considered a respectable lead and then allow myself to become complacent, I am almost as good as beaten. A sudden rush by an opponent taking one in the soft side of self-complacency, has caused many a good start to go for naught. Somehow a man coming from behind and winning holes is awfully hard to stop.

A GOOD RULE TO FOLLOW
The only safe course, or rather the best course, for none is absolutely safe, lies in a rigid adherence to a doctrine, supposedly of Scottish origin, which is expressed by the saying, "when you get him one down, get him two down; when you get him two down, get him three down; and so on. Not exactly in accord with the spirit of our Christian teaching, but tremendously effective in a golf match. The outcome of a golf match of course, is not a matter of life and death, or even of lasting importance in any respect, but competition is a competition, and a man engaged in a championship tournament ought to win at the cost of everything except good sportsmanship. If a game isn't worth everything we have to give in a sporting way it isn't worth a great deal of time and trouble.

Jim's theory involves the idea that playing all day under a nervous strain may be disastrous felt on the following morning, and that therefore it is well to relax when one has gained a safe lead. But why isn't it just as good to keep oneself keyed up to concert pitch throughout and perhaps stop the game a few holes sooner. At any rate it is usually easier to meet an opponent's rush in the closing holes if there has been no relaxation of taut nerves.

A WIN FOR LINEHAM
Harold Lineham won the competition played against par at the Colwood Golf Club this week, when he finished two down. J. N. Findlay was second, three down.

Nurmi Now At Outs With Authorities In His Home Land

Great Runner Gets His Back Up and Athletic Union Balks His Tour

New York, Sept. 30.—Paavo Nurmi, famous Finnish runner, is at odds with his country's athletic authorities according to word received here, and virtually under suspension as a result of refusing to run at the recent international meet at Stockholm in Finland and Sweden. The first punitive measure reported as refusal of a permit form Nurmi to participate in meets this Fall at Paris and other continental cities.

The incident has aroused an athletic storm in Scandinavian countries. Newspapers received here show front page stories devoted to the controversy, quoting those who have taken sides in the affair.

NEVER BROKE HIS NOSE
Jack denied that he had broken his nose during a training exhibition, and while admitting that he was with him while he trained for Mike Brennan and Carpenter, he asserted that neither Nurmi nor any one else had taken charge of his conditioning, as he took charge of himself and trusted no one else.

Shown telegram purporting to have been sent by Nurmi directing Nurmi to transact loans of $150,000 and $100,000, Jack said he could not remember sending them, but thought they might have been sent by Jack Kearns, his former manager.

The examination concluded with no date set for trial.

PICTON PASTOR HELD ON CRIMINAL COUNT

Girl Member of Choir Gives Evidence Against Rev. J. J. Mellor

Pictou, Ont., Sept. 30.—Rev. J. J. Mellor was yesterday committed for trial on a criminal charge alleging an offence against a girl under sixteen years of age.

The only evidence heard was that of Bertha Houck, the young girl whom Mellor is accused of wronging. She told the story of her relations with her ex-pastor, of their gradually growing intimacy, of the events of May, 1924, when she was only fifteen years of age, and of the continued illicit relations since that time.

Mellor was the pastor of Pictou United Church and the girl was a member of his choir. Following his arrest about a month ago, Mellor paid the girl $1,000 and on pleading guilty in police court, was fined $100. This punishment was regarded as inadequate by the Attorney-General of Ontario, who had a new charge laid, and Mellor was re-arrested.

On the stand Bertha Houck stated she came to Pictou when two years of age. Her father was alive in Calgary, but her mother had died when she was two years old.

BOND MEN WARNED NOT TO OVERLOOK INVESTORS' NEEDS

Seattle, Sept. 30.—John W. Stedman, of Newark, N.J., vice-president of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, told the Investment Bankers' Association members in a morning address that "you gentlemen and the borrowers of capital have been reeling for two years in a sellers' market."

"In such a period," he added, "it is not surprising that the strong wine of success and prosperity should go to your heads, making you disregard some of the reasonable needs of the investor, making you forget that the capacity of the buyer is not boundless and that his appetite can be in time dulled by constantly boosted prices."

In its annual report, the public service securities committee warned the investment bankers that unless any industry takes steps to control its own functions and curb abuses of its power there is always "danger of agitation for government supervision."

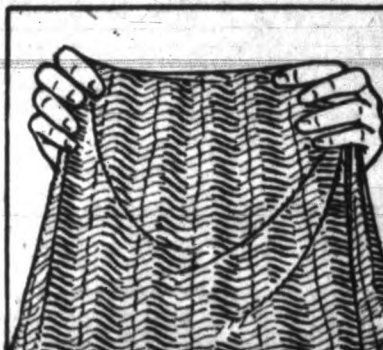

"It is to the interest, not only of the leaders in the public utility industry itself," the committee held, "but also to the bankers who sell their securities, to direct all possible influence for removing or preventing any just cause of criticism."

Henry B. Hayes of New York City, was named president of the association in the final session to-day. Other officers elected without opposition in-

"THE RED WIDOW" PLEASES HOUSE AT OPENING SHOW

onel, played by Beverly Fyfe, is attractive. Mr. Fyfe is outstanding. Apart from playing a difficult role of an effeminate youth to a noisy, the young artist has a voice. He sings well and dances with vivacity.

The cast was a big one. Baron Maximilian Scarcovitch ("Bun" Trevitt), as a Russian detective, made a big impression. Bill Hudson was the fat friend of Colonel Butts and manager of the hotel in which the Colonel was a guest. Popova, a waiter and fierce nihilist, is well portrayed by Ernest Fern. Herbert Kent is a wonderful chief of police, as Count Ivan Scorpoff, and made a sensation when his beard came off during a dinner scene. In addition to those who played the more prominent parts there were a score of pretty girls, dancers, male choruses and singers.

Leighton McKicking, Fred Bartholomew, Johnny Simpson and Miss Marjorie Watson, whose beautiful voice was heard in a splendid duet with Art Partridge, carried their lesser parts ably.

DANCERS POPULAR

Miss Violet Powkes and Jay Pogson were well received in their spirited dance "Adagio." Miss Powkes was charmingly costumed and Mr. Pogson was a splendid partner. They also did the "Black Bottom" which won a great hand. The Russian dancers trained to perfection by Mrs. Dorothy Wilson and Nicholas Rusanoff, gained much applause. Miss Dolly Spender pleased her audience with a Rika dance, and the Hawaiian chorus of pretty misses gave her a pleasing background.

The opening chorus of the final act, singing "Sonya," was of high artistic order and the voice ensemble were particularly good. "Never Mind Singing, Just Dance, My Dear," by Yvette and chorus of men; the trio by Varvara, Basil and Baron. "When Woman Is the Question," Colonel Butts's "I'm a Wonderful Man in Yonkers," "We Will Go," by Yvette, Oswald and Troubadours; "In Society It's Always Dress Parade," by Anna, the Princess, Countess, Butts and others; "You and I," "In a Little White House," sung by Marjorie Watson and Arthur Partridge, and Anna Varvara's "For To-night," "The Ladder of Roses," by Dorothy Harries and Jay Pogson, and "We Are Nihilists," by Popov and Nihilists, were among the outstanding musical numbers.

The costuming through out was attractive and the choruses were becomingly clad, especially in the last act, where the Russian settings made an impressive succession of scenes. The presentation was well balanced with comedy, music and drama. Most of the British Medical Association, the producers anticipate good public support.

The first night was one of the best attended of any amateur presentation which ever appeared here.

Explaining the Naughtiness of Healthy Children

By DR. MORRIS FISHBURN

Dr. Robert M. Marshall of Glasgow discussed before a recent meeting of the British Medical Association, the subject of "The Mental State of the Restless, Naughty Child."

There is a great difference between the wayward action of a child of the Peter Pan type and the wayward action of the child which suffers from forms of insanity or mental defect. There is nothing cunning or underhand about the misdeeds of the normally naughty child. He does not, like a delinquent, commit his misdeeds at a time when they will not be discovered, but is likely to carry them out as a public show. Most of his mischief is done spontaneously or impulsively, whereas the delinquent acts with malice aforethought. The child who is a moral imbecile is deaf to remonstrance and insensitive to correction.

The normal mental child will take to heart a correction and is not likely to repeat the same offence. Such a child may suffer from instability, but not from depravity. Indeed, this restlessness is the most significant characteristic of these children and is involved in all of their actions. They are pert, talk freely to whomever they may meet, and play with anything that interests them. They are always busy about something and if their activities can be continued to use as signals, they give indication of precocity.

On the other hand, their apparent brilliance is not usually accompanied by a high intelligence quotient. They are, however, never below an intelligence quotient of 85, so that they rank well up with the majority of children.

Dr. Marshall's characterization of this type of child as the Peter Pan type that never grows up is an exceedingly apt one.

INSPECTION OF GAS BOATS IS ASKED

Faulty Tanks Blamed For Number of Accidents in B.C.

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—After urging that marine regulations be amended so that all gasoline boats will be subject to inspection, J. A. Thomas, provincial fire marshal, has returned from Ottawa where he interviewed the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Mr. Thomas pointed out that during the past year eight explosions occurred on gasoline boats in British Columbia waters, in which several lives were lost. Faulty gasoline tanks were to blame in a number of these mishaps, he contended, and if the boats came under inspection many accidents would be avoided.

HOWE ISLAND IS POSSIBLE TERMINAL FOR LAKE ONTARIO

Lies Just North of Main Steamboat Channel Close to Mainland

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Howe Island is the likely site for the new lake terminal on Lake Ontario, according to a rumor in circulation here. It is claimed that the committee investigating suitable sites on behalf of the Department of Railways and Canals looks with favor on this location and will so recommend to the Minister. This island is situated some seven miles below Kingston and is about eight miles long. It has many large farms on it as well as some summer homes.

According to reports here the proposal will be to expropriate some of these farms and build a village as well as the terminals. The island lies just north of the main steamboat channel and at some points is quite close to the Canadian mainland, although the water intervening is deep.

For months the committee has been investigating the many sites proposed for the terminals where the big grain boats, which now stop at the foot of Lake Erie, would unload their cargoes when the new Welland Canal enables them to enter Lake Ontario.

ANIMALS THINK SCIENTIST CLAIMS

President of Psychic Research Congress Gives Views at Paris Congress

Paris, Sept. 30.—The belief that animals can think was expressed to-day by some delegates to the International Congress of Psychic Research, although others were inclined to believe that clever training was responsible for manifestations indicating thought on the part of animals.

Charles Richet, president of the Congress, although expressing unwillingness to declare his views without qualifications, said "That it would be very daring to say that human existence is entirely different from that of animals."

"We certainly find evidence of thought in animals," he added, "and the time will come, I think, when we discover a chain of connection between biology, physiology and metaphysics."

The first of the fleet was launched yesterday afternoon at Dumbarton, and was christened the Beaverburn.

These ships represent a very high class of cargo designed with a view of supplying the London market with Canadian perishable goods, and have a capacity of 80,000 cubic feet of refrigerated space. Their speed is up to fifteen knots an hour.

The last of these boats will be launched November 10. They are of 12,500 deadweight tonnage and will sail between Montreal in summer, St. John in winter and London with calls at Antwerp, Havre and Hamburg.

Seattle, Sept. 30.—The bare hull of the former Transmarine Steamship Saremico, which collided off Cape Flattery June 3 with the French liner Arkansas was sold yesterday for $3,500 to W. Nickum. The vessel, which was valued at $50,000 at the time of the wreck, was stripped and sold because no one could be found to repair the craft for less than $100,000. Her machinery and equipment is being sent to the east coast. Nickum said that the exact use of the Saremico had not been decided.

The corporation is suing the Government for approximately $9,000,000, which it contends is due on war-time shipbuilding contracts which were cancelled after the work had reached a point where the plaintiff was compelled to sustained the suit.

The Government, on the other hand, is suing for $7,500,000 alleged overpaid to the corporation during war-time work.

DREDGE FOR HUDSON BAY WORK FOUNDERS

Dipper Dredge Kennequehair on Way to Fort Churchill Sinks in Storm

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Word has been received at the Department of Railways and Canals that the loss of the dipper dredge Kennequehair, which was proceeding to Fort Churchill, was proceeding to Fort Churchill, the terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway.

The dredge ran into a northwest gale on the Atlantic off the Labrador coast at a point about 200 miles south of Hudson Straits. Owing to the pounding which it was subjected to, the dredge sprang a leak and foundered on the morning of September 27.

The crew was taken off safely and there was no loss of life.

The dredge, towed by the seagoing tug Ocean Eagle, left Sydney, C.B., September 19 for Fort Churchill to work in the harbor. With her was a tugboat, the tug Saint John, and a hopper barge propelled under its own steam.

All the other vessels are safe and they are proceeding to Fort Churchill.

On arrival at Fort Churchill, the tug Saint Anne will be refueled for the return trip to Bathurst, N.B., her home port. The balance of the two will proceed through the straits to Churchill as originally planned.

The Kennequehair was originally purchased for work at Port Nelson in 1916. She cost approximately $115,000. When the work was closed down at Port Nelson in 1917 the dredge was sold at other places.

RAIDER ARRIVES
The department also has been advised that the Canadian Government Merchant Marine steamer Canadian Raider, has arrived

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

Wall Street Journal's Review of To-day's Stock Market Over B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Lease Wire to The Victoria Times

New York, Sept. 30.—The evening edition of The Wall Street Journal says: "Shorts were given severe punishment in to-day's session. Instead of the increase of $100,000,000 predicted in 'breakdown' loans this week, as a result of delivery of new General Motors stocks, the gain only amounted about $21,000,000. This caught the bear crowd in a badly over-extended position. A rush to cover took place at the opening. Prices in the principal issues scored sweeping advances. While a technical setback took place in the late morning, the rally gained fresh momentum in the afternoon."

Increasing sales in General Motors by the Fisher interests was caused by an analysis made.

International Match was one of the stocks that scored a large gain. The aggressive advance was accompanied by rumors of pending rights to shareholders. No additional stock issue is contemplated at present.

Houston continued its advance, selling at 168. Houston's position is considered much better with more gas being produced.

Canadian Pacific was a feature. This reflected the increased financial resources of the Dominion, resulting from property in its wheat region. Canadian investors are accumulating Nickel. One important group in Montreal is reported to have acquired a substantial block of Imperial Oil from Standard of New Jersey.

General Asphalt was a feature of the day. It showed a balance for the first six months of only 61 cents a common share, vs. 2.20 in the corresponding period of 1926. This decrease caused the question of starting common dividends.

Time money against stock exchange collateral is dull, in good supply. Money for present and ninety days 4 1/2 and 4 3/4.

MONTREAL STOCKS

(By B.C. Bond Corporation Wire) Montreal, Sept. 30.—Bullish interest remained in control of the market yesterday and succeeded in marking up several of their favorites to new high levels. Little attention was paid to the weakness in Wall Street.

One of the star performers was Abitibi, which reached a new high of 127 1/2. President Smith tells financial friends there is nothing in the rumor that $150 has been offered for control. This started a reaction, but the close was firm and near the top. New operations seem to be chiefly responsible.

National Breweries made a new high at 94, but did not hold this long. It is reported built a new plant, estimated on this stock at 110. There was good trading in Brazilian, but it did not improve the Wednesday high of 200.

Most of the newspaper issues were strong in sympathy with Abitibi. Although some pauses may be expected in the general process of expansion which is going on, it is not believed to have been completed.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)
(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Wheat, Sept. 30.—Wheat, another day without export business in Canada wheat, short interest pretty well eliminated by the recent upturn of 4 to 5 cents, combined with heavy country marketing the October wheat future was very weak to-day and after advancing 1 cent during the first few minutes, prices began to decline. The market was checked, a loss of 25-30 was recorded from the early high mark. October got under the daily bid brought in a little buying and selling pressure let up on the extreme decline, small futures took place but the undertone was weak. The deferred futures were relatively stronger than October, the liquidation and the market was being mostly in the nearby months.

Western Canadian weather was unfavorable, light, drizzly rain, but three provinces, it was still raining in Saskatchewan today but had stopped in Alberta and Manitoba with signs of clearing and cooler temperatures. Country wheat was being largely a 6,500-227 bushels. Thursday, as compared with 3,000,000 last year. There were 1,331 cars of wheat in the inspection shed at the time of the market, and a contract and there are 1,400 cars being inspected to-day. In the local cash market there was a fair demand for one being mostly in the nearby months.

Seaboard placed export sales yesterday at around 1,000,000 bushels, practically all American wheat, but to-day's sales were estimated at 200,000 bushels. Chicago passed away for September very weak. European news appeared somewhat bullish and Australian conditions are not good, but conditions are excellent in Argentina and the United States. Winter wheat belt with an increased acreage in both countries. The Northwest Grain Dealers' Association will issue their estimate this afternoon of the Western Canadian crop.

The trade generally is looking for 400,000,000 bushels, believing the Government's figures of 350,000,000 bushels are an over-estimate. The big interest is that having continued unfavorable weather October wheat prices will sink a few cents lower before the market opens to-day. Winnipeg futures closed 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lower.

Coarse grains—October oats again advanced 1 cent early in the day but with pressure from the bulge was lost, oats finally closed unchanged to half lower. There is a better eastern inquiry for oats. There was a little demand for barley and rye offerings were plentiful. Barley closed 1/2 to 1/4 lower and rye 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

OUR SERIAL STORY

"The Wife & Co."

By LYLE HAMILTON

Mr. Frazier agreed, cordially. "Of course you were a sap," he said. Turning to the policeman, he added: "I gave him the impression that Miss Holmquist still had two thousand dollars that he had overlooked."

The officer roared with laughter. "The big prize!" said the prisoner, hotly. "He comes and finds me in the hotel lobby and calls me off to one side and whispers to me and asks me if I'm the guy that married the blonde. And I stifle him, of course, because I don't know what he wants. And he asks confidential if I'll okay him borrowing this blonde's two thousand dollars. And right away I fall for it and come back here with him to see the girl. He lets on he wants to borrow the coin, see?"

Little Swedie's employer chuckled. "He came with me so promptly that he forgot to leave any word for his other wife."

"I know what he wanted," proclaimed Mrs. Potter. "He was going to get that two thousand himself!"

"That's a fine wise crack!" snorted the young man. "What else did you suppose I came back for, huh?"

The officer arose. "Guess that's enough for this time. If the jeweler wants to file a complaint, he's got plenty of time. The lady's bound to get a job for lifting the other woman's five hundred—couple of years in the pen, likely. He took the man's hand, and he was going to the cooler."

Mrs. Potter tightened her hold on Mary Holmquist's hand, but the girl did not stir, except to move her large brown eyes as her husband and his captor went out the door.

Brownell looked at Molly. "Shall we go, Mollykins?" he asked.

She nodded. Before she started away, she went to little Swedie and kissed her on the forehead. "I'm so sorry that I'm sick about it, dear," she said.

The other girl merely shook her head, vacantly went down the stair with the Brownells. As they reached the sidewalk they could see the large policeman turning the corner, his dapper prisoner beside him. Two small boys had fallen in behind, attracted by the handcuffs that Swedie's husband wore.

"Miss Holmquist is going to have a bad Sunday," Bob's employer said, pausing with his hand upon the door of his car.

"Do you think I could do anything?" Molly asked.

"You might run in and see how she's getting along. She really looks that ruffian, I think. She may collapse."

Molly promised to call. The man stood a moment longer, thinking.

"Do you know anything about Mrs. Potter?" he asked abruptly. "Anything about her people?"

"Nothing—except that she was married to Bill Potter," she said, with a faint smile.

"I remember her mentioning Mr. Potter," said he, also smiling. "It seems that the poor gentleman was unfortunate. But I was in her home town, making some inquiries here and there, and there's something odd."

"What is it, boss?" Brownell inquired.

"The other man did not answer the question directly, but after rubbing his chin, and then his ear, reflectively, he said: 'Would you mind asking her a question or two, for me?'"

"Of course I will," Brownell answered. "What shall I ask?"

"Find out her maiden name, and where she was born."

"I can do that," Molly said, eagerly. "She always talks to me."

"My impression is, he answered, 'that she talks to anybody! But I'd rather not ask her, myself—I'm not sure.' He climbed into his machine."

"If you get the information, would you mind coming to my house to-morrow morning? It's rather important."

He pressed down on the clutch pedal and drew the gear lever toward him. "It may be—it is barely possible—that Mrs. Potter may have some good fortune coming. But I don't know."

He drove away, leaving the young people on the curb.

WATER GOLF

It ought to take you just five strokes to drive the ball from STAR MOON and sink your putt. If you can do it in less, you're good. The answer is printed on page 21.

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW TO HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
- 2—You can change only one letter at a time.
- 3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

send a boy to get Mrs. Potter. You have to wait a long time. Sometimes you have to talk so central will think the line's in use and won't cut you off. The servant bowed, and went into the next room.

"Rather complicated, isn't it?" inquired Mr. Frazier, offering them the rack of toast. He went ahead to talk of telephones and other casual things. Despite the curiosity that burned in Molly's eyes, she did not ask him what he wanted with Mrs. Potter.

When, at length, the man came to say that "the lady is on the line, and very angry, sir," Molly again started to her feet.

"Please tell her I'll send my car for her," said Mr. Frazier, "and that it is urgent that she should come."

The matter required much argument, over the line. "But, please, Mrs. Potter," Molly begged, "Mr. Frazier says it's important. Yes—important to Mary Holmquist." She didn't know that this was so, but she risked it. "Please come right away. Mr. Frazier's chauffeur will come for you and take you home."

She returned to the drawing-room rather flustered. "Did she call me names?" asked the boy, smiling.

"Yes," Molly admitted, "and at first she wouldn't come, but she says she will now. She's bringing Mary."

Forty minutes later Mrs. Potter and the pretty blonde were ushered into the room. Mary Holmquist silently acknowledged her employer's greeting and sank into a chair in the corner.

Mrs. Potter inspected her surroundings. "Looks like a theatre to me," she said. "What have you got such an old mantelpiece for? Can't you afford a new one?"

"That," said Mr. Frazier apologetically, "came from Italy. I bought it there."

"Probably second-hand," observed the woman.

"Yes, quite so. It is about five hundred years old."

OPPOSITION VOICED TO TRIAL MARRIAGE

Family Life and Salacious Books Discussed by United Church Board

Members Concerned Over Many Propositions in Current Literature

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Approaching the question of salacious books and periodicals from the standpoint of family life, the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of the United Church of Canada, in session here, made a pronouncement defining its attitude towards so-called "companionate marriage," and urging the study of marriage relations.

The findings advocate promotion of the reading of the best literature and the provision of club life for young women away from home. Attention is called to the rapid increase of unlicensed dance halls in various parts of Canada.

"This board is deeply concerned in such standards of family life as will contribute from the family to human life as a whole, the highest possible spiritual, moral and physical stamina."

Its members are "very anxious about the many propositions being made in relation to marriage and the family life in current literature, much of which appears to be extremely salacious."

"Utter opposition to the suggestion of trial and companionate marriage" is declared, and the board urges instead a consideration of the complete functions of marriage, and more particularly the most thoughtful valuation of marriage as a means of life enrichment of the members of the family."

In the board's view, carefully selected groups of men and women should be formed wherever possible, with the main object of making serious study of all questions related to marriage. City Churches are recommended to gather young men into clubs for wholesome companionship and helpful instruction.

More than $70,000 is spent each year by one of the large motion picture companies in returning unsolicited manuscripts.

A rose that changes color, from pale yellow to yellow deeply splashed with red, according to whether it is cold or warm when the bud opens, was exhibited at a recent English flower show.

The males keep house among the rare Arctic surf birds. From the bird's breeding habits, it is now known that not only does the father bird hatch the eggs, but he defends them far more valiantly than does the female.

Hundreds of people in Victoria have told us of the relief they have obtained by the use of this simple, natural remedy. Many have been so impressed with the health-giving qualities of this magnetic belt discovery that they have not hesitated to write testimonials giving their experience. The following is an example:

1124 Oxford Street,
Victoria, B.C.
Sept. 20, 1927.

Dear Sir:—

I wish to add my testimony to the benefits of the I-on-a-co Belt. I have been suffering intense pain with rheumatism for more than six months and was advised to use the I-on-a-co Belt, and must say the result is wonderful.

I suffer no more pain and I feel more fit than I have done for a long time.

The I-on-a-co Belt is the simplest and easiest way to recover health which I have seen. I recommend this belt to anyone who is in need of relief.

Yours truly,
H. BOGART.

DOMESTIC GRAIN RATE HERE HIGH, OLIVER DECLARES

Should be Reduced Almost to Level of Export Scale, Commissioner Asserts

Rail Board Penalizing Western Consumer, He Says in Minority Report

Domestic grain rates in British Columbia are far too high, Commissioner Frank Oliver of the Railway Board declares in a minority judgment, dissenting from the board's recent rate rulings.

Details of Mr. Oliver's ruling, which reached here to-day, show that he is in accord with the contention of the British Columbia Government that domestic rates on grain should approximate export rates. Until this arrangement has been ordered by the board, British Columbia users of flour and grain will be paying excessive rates as part of the cost of these products, he declares.

EASTERN RATE LOWER

Support for British Columbia's demand for lower domestic grain rates is contained in a minority judgment handed down by Commissioner Frank Oliver of the Canadian Railway Commission, and just received here. Mr. Oliver's ruling, flatly disagreeing with the decision of the commission against British Columbia is expected to stimulate the demand for an appeal on the domestic grain issue, even if the remainder of the rate case is to be allowed to lapse. In effect Mr. Oliver's judgment, which was read with keen interest here, admits that export grain rates should be lower than domestic rates, but argues that the present domestic rate to the Pacific Coast from the prairies is indefinitely high compared with the export charge. As a result, he shows, the people of Eastern Canada, representing three-quarters of the population of the Dominion, get grain and grain products at a far lower cost than the people of British Columbia. To aid the coast poultry industry he proposes that domestic rates on grain lower than export quality shall not exceed the export rate.

"From prairie points eastbound to Fort William there is no difference in rail rates between grain and flour for export and for domestic use," says Mr. Oliver's judgment. "The consuming population at the lake head, who thus get the benefit of an export rail rate on their domestic supplies is not large enough to be considered a factor in the case. But the major portion of the grain consigned to Ontario and Quebec points leaves the lake head by boat, not by rail, and reaches the head and river ports of these provinces by the same means."

"In this way the greater part of the two larger provinces of the Dominion, containing two-thirds of the total population of the country, may receive the bulk of their domestic supply of wheat and flour at a rate actually at export rates—as in the case of all cities on the waterfront including Toronto, Montreal and Quebec—or at those rates with local distributing costs added for delivery at inland points, the most convenient lake or river port."

AS CHEAP IN ORIENT

On the other hand, Mr. Oliver points out, British Columbia consumers do not enjoy the benefit of these low export rates. On the contrary, the rate to Calgary to the coast on grain and flour for home consumption in this Province is 4 1/4 cents per hundred pounds, while the export rate is 2 1/2 cents. "It appears from the published Government returns that aside from the cost of sacking, grain exported to Japan and China, the grain and flour from the prairies used in Yokohama and Hongkong, frequently paid no greater total freight rate from prairie points than that used in Vancouver and Victoria."

"The all-rail export rate from Fort William to Montreal is 34 1/4 cents per hundred pounds," he says. "The domestic rate is 37 1/2 cents, which is 3 cents over the export rate. The rail distance from Fort William to Montreal is somewhat more than one-half greater than the distance to Calgary and Vancouver. There would not appear to be any reason why the difference between export and domestic rates on grain of export standards from prairie points to Vancouver should be greater than that between domestic and export rates on the longer haul from Fort William to Montreal."

SUFFICIENT PROTECTION

"Without discussing the merits of the contention of the Canadian Millers' Association against equalizing domestic and export rates to Vancouver, as they are now equalized to Fort William, it would seem that a differential rate of 3 cents per 100 pounds would be as much protection against the overseas competition of United States Pacific Coast millers as Canadian millers can reasonably claim to be entitled to at the sole cost of the people of the Province of British Columbia, where the consumption of flour—exclusively the product of Canadian mills—per head of population is greater than in any other province of the Dominion."

"Although a domestic rate 3 cents per 100 pounds over the export rate from prairie points to Vancouver would be the same as the difference between domestic and export rates as now prevails on the all-rail grain movement from Fort William to Montreal, it would not put the respective populations of Vancouver and Montreal in the same relative positions as to the cost of their domestic supplies because central Canada generally, including Montreal, in fact gets the bulk of its domestic supply by rail and water at the export rate."

GRAIN FOR FEED

Mr. Oliver goes on to explain the importance of proper domestic grain rates in the case of British Columbia, because of its growing poultry industry. He explains that damaged Alberta grain, unfit for export, could be advantageously brought here for poultry and hog feed if the rate were fair.

The plan which Mr. Oliver proposes to put the domestic rate structure on a fair basis is outlined as follows:

1. That the Canadian Pacific Railway be required to comply with the order of the commission of September 2, 1925, by reducing the export rate on grain and flour from prairie points to its main line to Vancouver to the per mile rate now in force from prairie points on its main line to Fort William; also that if in pursuance of an order of the board changes are made in their export rates on grain and flour from prairie points to Fort William on the main line of the Canadian Pacific, the export rates westbound should forthwith be made to conform with such changes.

2. That the Canadian National Railway be notified that when any changes are made in the per mile export rates on grain and flour on the main line of that system from prairie points to Fort William the same per mile rates are to be made effective forthwith from prairie points to Vancouver.

3. That the C.P.R. and the C.N.R. be notified to amend their class rates applicable in the region between Canmore and Edmonton on the East and Vancouver on the West to the level of actual mileage.

4. That the two railways be notified that rates on grain and flour from domestic use shall not be more than 3 cents per 100 pounds higher from prairie points to Vancouver than the rates from the same points on grain and flour for export.

5. That the rate on grain below export quality, that is wheat of a quality below the grade of No. 4 Northern, and other grains below the grade of No. 3 Canadian Western, shall not exceed the export rate.
